HAIL AND KIDS — Heavy downpour of hail upon Daly City and other north county cities Sunday night provided youngsters with a rare snowy-type treat at midafternoon the following day. The hail pelted the north peninsula at 9:30 p.m. Sunday, as many residents worried about their windows giving way. Gunmen Escape In S.S.F.

Two gunmen held up Al's Liquor Store on Grand Avenue in South San Francisco Monday night and escaped with $200 after forcing a clerk to lie on the floor.

The two robbers, both described as white men in their early thirties, entered the store at 8 p.m., and asked clerk Eva Sanchez for a pack of cigarettes.

When she turned to get the cigarettes, one of the men pulled a snub-nosed revolver from beneath a sweater and ordered her to lie upon the floor.

As the man with the gun stood over Mrs. Sanchez, the other robber broke open the cash register drawer, police said.

The pair walked out the front door of the store and quickly mingled with downtown Christmas shoppers after the holdup.

Overtime Pay for S.S.F. Firemen, Police Okeh'd

South San Francisco councilmen Monday approved a resolution providing time-and-a-half pay for overtime work by members of the city's police and fire departments.

The council resolution, approved unanimously, places the city's police and fire employes on a par with departments in other Peninsula cities.

Police and firemen requested the time-and-a-half for overtime pay several months ago, but funds to cover the additional payroll costs (an estimated $7,000) were not included in the current budget.

City officials inadvertantly failed to include the money in the budget, Mayor Patrick Ahern said, and the council then decided to wait until next year to approve the additional pay.

Last week, administrators "found a source" from which to draw the additional funds, and the council decided to implement the new pay arrangement. It will become effective January 1.

In other business Monday, the council voted to refer a claim for damages to a boat at the Oyster Point Marina to the city's insurance carriers.

The claim, for $2,049, was filed by the State Farm Fire and Casualty Co. for damages to a boat owned by Harold and Amy Nobles.

CITIZENS' PLANNING COMMITTEE REPORT

Urban Trends In Daly City

By FRANK LAPIERRE

Daly City's growth might well create urban problems similar to those now being faced by neighboring San Francisco, a subcommittee on residential development has reported to the city council.

The report was part of a study conducted by eight Daly City citizens regarding ideas to be incorporated into the General Plan now being prepared.

In their report, the subcommittee members, headed by W. Glenn Weman, anticipated similar problems now facing San Francisco in the form of urban decay in the "older" sections of the city and advised the city to attempt to reverse this trend "by every means available" and to "increase and encourage rehabilitation" in these sections.

The members were unanimous in agreeing that urban renewal and similar redevelopment programs should not be undertaken by the city, claiming "these programs have proven to be less than satisfactory in other areas (of the country)."

"Indeed, they seem to compound the problems of the elderly, the handicapped and the socially indigent — the very people the programs purport to help," the report stated.

It was further noted there now exists an inadequate supply of homes for low income groups and senior citizens in Daly City.

Early adoption of a housing code — with strict enforcement measures — was urged by the committee, which also encouraged tax assessment changes which would allow homeowners more latitude in making property improvements without suffering tax increases based on these improvements.

"This has a definite and desirable possibility. Present methods of assessment actually discourage property improvements to marginal structures because the added tax assessment in its (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

January 22 Is Morgan Report Date

Edward Morgan, superintendent of the Jefferson High School District, will make his administrative report on district school attendance lines and ethnic balance January 22.

In commenting upon a list of recommendations submitted by a faculty committee with approval of most district teachers, Morgan dismissed a suggestion another committee be formed to determine boundary possibilities.

He told the board: "I do not believe that you should appoint another committee. It is time for positive board action!"

Morgan did suggest, however, that:

"With your permission, I will use all of the data presented and consulting with knowledgeable staff and community leaders have in your hands by January 22, positive recommenda- (Please See Page 2, Column 6) application does place a penalty on improvements," the report pointed out.

The report went on:

"One might say the tax assessment structure is almost a charge placed on making existing buildings residentially more livable and attractive."

To project future needs of Daly City it was suggested an exact inventory and analysis of housing be made.

"This inventory . . . would logically lead to sound decisions regarding how and where new residential housing should be encouraged," the report said.

The subcommittee, composed of Lora Todesco, W. Neil Andrus, Julius Castelan, Jim Cranna, Tony DeMarlo, Lebe Merlini and Catherine Smallwood, were asked:

"What features of Daly City's older neighborhoods do you like or dislike?"

In part, the subcommittee felt the trend in older sections was towards allowing certain areas to "run down" primarily because of the system of the aforementioned tax assessments once improvements were made on property.

Another feature discussed in the so-called "older sections" of San Mateo County's second largest city was the congested traffic conditions on streets — built during years when cars were not as numerous as they are today.

"More consideration should be given to keeping these streets clear and attractive by design of one-way street plans," the committee suggested.

Other considerations that would aid in the alleviation of this congestion on city streets was the removal of "junk" and abandoned cars, plus restricted parking in specified areas.

Although much progress has been made in street lighting there is a need for more modern lighting in the older sections. When these modifications are made, it was recommended the utilities be undergrounded.

In the new sections of the city, the subcommittee felt present development plans were adequate regarding street widths, property setbacks, recreation areas and shopping facilities.

"Population density must be given prime consideration in new developments and the committee feels the present planning allows the developer a reasonable return, yet keeps the cost of the home within reach of the buyer while maintaining control of the density problem," the report explained.

However, the committee felt there should be more of a "variety in housing types" in these new neighborhoods.

"It is desirable that there be different types of houses where the price range will allow, but this should not necessarily be the criteria in development because of the cost factor," according to the subcommittee.

The foothills of San Bruno Mountain would be the most likely location for planned apartment construction — similar to the present plans of the Serramonte tract, members agreed.

The city should also be encouraged to attract high-rise apartments in suitable location areas around the city, including the top of San Bruno Mountain.

"The San Bruno Mountain area would be especially conducive to high value, high-rise apartments," the report stated, noting the BART station planned for the Knowles Avenue area would "possibly be enhanced by high-rise apartments."

Such apartments should be erected so they do not obstruct views, and yet in such a fashion that they screen the BART station and freeway from neighboring homes.

Construction of mobile home parks in Daly City should likewise be encouraged, the committee felt.

These facilities could accomodate various income groups and with the new concepts in such parks desirable living areas can be developed.

In concluding their report, the committee discussed the irregular alignment of the southern boundary of the city and recommended negotiations get underway for annexation of unincorporated county Broadmoor and Colma into Daly City.

tains Harbor Superintendent Don Fagundes was responsible for the sinking of the Nobles' boat at the Marina last August 17.

The claim states that Fagundes ordered his subordinates to cut the mooring lines of the cabin crusier after it partially submerged because of a leak in the hull.

After the lines were cut, the boat sank completely, the claim states.

Fagundes acted "over the objections of the owners" and while Nobles was aboard the boat operating pumps, according to the claim.

City officials maintain the boat had already sunk completely when the mooring lines were cut, and Fagundes acted to prevent further damage to the city-owned marina facilities and other boats.

The council ordered Public Works Director Louis Goss to make a survey of conditions of Fourth Lane between Laurel and Eucalyptus Streets and prepare a report for the next regular meeting.

Five property owners in the block submitted a petition to the council stating that the street is "rough, dusty and full of chuckholes."

7 Still In Running For 2 Judgeships

Seven of the 14 lawyers and two Municipal Court judges who submitted their names for two Superior Court appointments in San Mateo County are still in the running, the governor's office said yesterday in Sacramento.

Paul R. Hearle, Governor Reagan's appointment secretary, said the names are presently on the governor's desk and that the appointments should be made before the end of the year.

Assignments Wait

Meanwhile, completion of court assignments for 1968 is being held up awaiting the appointments. One of the appointees is scheduled to take over the domestic relations calendar in the coming year and the other will replace Superior Judge Frank B. Blum who will take over a full-time department in South San Francisco.

Difficulty

Hearle said the seven names were sent out for "evaluation" by a five-member judicial selection advisory board in San Mateo County and the Board of Governors of the State Bar, and have been returned to Reagan's desk. The other nine names were culled out by Hearle or the advisory board in a procedure which Reagan claims will base the judicial selection process on qualifications of the individuals rather than on politics.

Five of those who submitted their names in the first place are Democrats. It was not known how many of the seven remaining are Democrats.

It appeared that Reagan may be having difficulty in choosing among the seven because of pressures being brought to bear by those favoring or opposing particular candidates. Hearle said that in making his decision Reagan listens to the viewpoints of various individuals and groups, including the local bar association, members of both political parties, and the county's legislators in Sacramento.

Legislative authorization for the local judges has been ineffect since November 8 and the appointments were expected long ago by members of the local bar and bench. Appointments have been announced in recent weeks in neighboring counties, including the elevation of Municipal Court judges, who happen to be Democrats, to the Superior Court bench.

Applicants

Those known to have applied: Republicans — Municipal Judge Charles Becker and attorneys Robert H. Schnacke, Robert E. Carey, Louis P. Francis, Howard E. Gawthrop, Maurice K. Hamilton, Thomas E. Paige, Conrad B. Reisch, Jack L. Robertson, Allison M. Rouse, and Lemuel M. Summey. Democrats — Municipal Judge Roy W. Seagraves and attorneys Hugh F. Mullin Jr., Nick L. M. Elchinoff, Benjamin B. Knight and Francis W. Lanam.

Rapid Transit Study Tells D.C. Role

The Daly City rapid transit terminus is envisioned as the Peninsula link of a "fan shaped feeder-trunk layout of surface and rapid transit routes converging upon the San Francisco central business district" and tied to other Bay points in a rapid transit report submitted last week.

A two-year study by consulting engineers developed recommendations for co-ordinating the San Francisco bay region's existing public facilities with Bay Area Rapid Transit District.

Its announced goal was to develop a co-ordination plan so that three transit systems might "function, together for commuters, as if they are a single area-wide transit system."

The report climaxes a 30-month study, carried out with the aid of $582,322 in demonstration grants from the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

It was delivered by the Northern California Transit Demonstration Project, a joint study organization composed of the San Francisco Municipal Railway, the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District and the Bay Area Rapid Transit District.

The major recommendations include proposals to relocate various existing bus routes in San Francisco and the East Bay area — as well as to estabish new routes — so they will provide efficient feeder service to the 75-mile BART network and improve transportation within the local community — including the Daly City terminal station.

The report touched on the subject of establishing an adequate feeder line to the Daly City terminus station. Existing bus facilities were deemed insufficient to serve the people of the North County, the report states.

Certain fare adjustments also were recommended for the transit systems, together with institution of special combined fares and transfer procedures that would encourage joint use of all facilities.

The NCTDP report emphasized that the recommendations merely represent an evaluation by the Simpson & Curtin firm and have not been acted upon by the individual transit agencies.

Guidelines

"The primary function of the project has been to provide guidelines to the agencies in working out their ultimate arrangements for co-ordination of their transit operations," the report said.

Creation of the BART system will have a dramatic effect on Bay Area transportation, according to the study, which is based upon a detailed analysis of 1965 travel habits projected to 1975 when the rail network will be in full operation.

The most significant impact will be upon the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, from which 21,000 auto-person trips will be diverted daily to BART.

In another phase of the study, various methods were evaluated for providing reduced combination fares to transfer patrons.

tions for a program that will implement the faculty committee's rationale."

That "rationale," as presented the trustees previously, revolved around faculty "aims" to develop a plan:

—That would improve our educational program and provide equal opportunities for all the students in the district;

—To prevent or retard de facto segregation from occurring in any one of the high schools;

—To balance enrollment between Jefferson, Westmoor and Serramonte and to prevent an imbalance from occurring in any of the other high schools in the district;

—That is financially possible;

—That will be acceptable to the community.

Morgan thinks the faculty suggestion that regular high schools be retained as four-year schools should be approved.

The teacher urging that ethnic balance apply only to incoming students was tabled until Morgan s report early next year.

Morgan praised the faculty committee for "directing attention to the fact that a boundary change aimed at preventing de facto segregation must be coupled with a creative — flexible educational program — one geared to elevate the intellectual attainment of all students."

Bruno Girl Wins Top Essay Prize in Bay Area Contest

A 13-year-old San Bruno girl won a $250 savings account and $250 in cash for her school when she walked off with top honors in the Fourth Annual College Fund Essay Contest sponsored by Eureka Federal Savings and Loan Association in seven Bay Area cities.

Priscilla A. Bakos, an eighth grade student at Parkside School in San Bruno, was presented the President's Trophy for "the outstanding essay in the Bay Area" at an Awards Banquet for nearly 100 people at the St. Francis Hotel at which California Supreme Court Justice Stanley Mosk was the keynote speaker.

Over 1,500 essays were submitted in the Annual College Fund Essay Contest for sixth through ninth grade students in San Francisco, San Bruno, Pacifica, San Carlos, Los Gatos, Fremont and Santa Rosa.

Those present at the dinner heard Justice Mosk say that law enforcement officers represent government which guarantees each individual's safety and security and that these officers not only deserve the respect of every citizen, but it is the obligation of each citizen to aid and, when necessary, to come to the assistance of law enforcement people.

He also noted that demonstrations of violence by groups, not matter what the excuse, amounts to anarchy which threatens government and security and should not be tolerated.

A total of $2,450 was awarded to winners by Eureka Federal. The theme of this year's 500 words or less contest was "If I Were Mayor, Here Is What I Would Do to Insure Law and Order in My Community."

The Annual Essay Contests are sponsored by Eureka Federal as part of its year-round community activities and education programs and are designed to stimulate the interest of youth in the problems and affairs of their own cities and to help some deserving students towards a higher education.

In addition to the President's Trophy, $250 savings account and cash award, Eureka Federal Savings presented six first place awards of plaques and $150 savings accounts; seven second place awards of $100 savings accounts, and seven third place awards of $50 savings accounts.

The Annual College Fund Essay contests are presented in each of the seven cities where Eureka Federal has offices, with the winners in each community selected by panels of local judges.

While the fourth consecutive year of the Essay Contest, this was the first year of the Awards Banquet, indicating the improtance and stature the contest has attained in the minds of educators, students and parents.

Attending the Awards Banquet at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco, on December 14, were the first place winners, their parents, the school principals of the first-place students, and a number of judges as well as press representatives from the seven cities involved.

Representing Eureka Federal Savings at the dinner were Chairman of the Board James B. Kidwell; President, Kenneth L. Kidwell; Fred Bitterman, administrative vice president; Eureka Federal managers and several other officers of the 78-year savings institution.

The winning essayists and judges in North Peninsula communities included:

PACIFICA WINNERS: Darlene O'Banion, 14, ninth grade student at Oceana High School, first place; Michael Getas, 13, ninth grade student at Terra Nova High School, second place; Crystal Sedgley, 11, sixth grade student at Oretga School.

Judges: Pacifica Mayor Grace McCarthy; Chief of Police Neil Tremaine, and Charles Olsen, chairman of the English Department, Terra Nova High School.

SAN BRUNO WINNERS: Priscilla Bakos, President's Trophy and First Place in San Bruno; Margi Vanderslice, 13, eighth grade student at Parkside School, second place; and Kay Donatelli, 13, eighth grade student at Parkside School, third place.

Judges: San Bruno Mayor Maurice K. Hamilton; F. H. "Ted" Jackson, assistant superintendent, San Bruno Park School District, and Police Chief Russell Cunningham.

Bandits Empty Register

Employe Also Loses Wallet

Two robbers got $150 at the Sea Bowl in Pacifica on Monday at gunpoint, emptying the cash register and a night employe's wallet.

Pacifica police said James Cummings, 41, of Daly City, was alone in the bowling alley, cleaning a washroom in the nursery at the south end of the building, when one of the two robbers confronted him at 3:45 a.m.

Hold your hands up, turn around and give me the key to the register," the robber demanded.

A gun was pressed into Cummings' back and he complied with the order.

The robbers then took about $50 from the cash register, plus $102 from Cummings' wallet.

Cummings then was taken back to the washroom where he was advised to stay for 10 minutes and not to call police.

He waited the full 10 minutes before calling his employer, who called police.

Cummings was not harmed.

He described the robbers as in their 20's. Both wore olive green overcoats and blue jeans and carried small, black revolvers.

One of the robbers wore a nylon stocking to mask his face.

Four Caught at Holdup Scene

Daly City police officer James McHenery arrested four suspected gunmen as they allegedly attempted to flee the scene of a grocery store robbery Saturday night.

Minutes after the Shakespeare Grocery Store, at 100 Shakespeare Avenue, was held up, officer McHenery received an all-points radio bulletin and spotted the suspects' car on San Jose Avenue — less than a mile from the robbery scene.

The officer stopped the car and apprehended its four occupants, later identified as James Wheeler, 19, of 51 Vendome Street, Daly City; Larry Shaw, 18, of 57 Knowles Avenue, Daly City; Charles Bradford, 19, of 250 Joost Street, San Francisco, and James Williams, 19, of 855 Lausane Street, Daly City.

Store owner Mansueto L. Cardenti told police three men entered the store shortly after 6 p.m., and ordered him and three employees "don't move."

While Cardenti was standing behind the counter one of the gunmen fired a shot at him without provocation, narrowly missing the storeowner's head.

The gunman grabbed Cardenti's wallet and took more than $40 from the cash register before fleeing in a waiting car.

Burglar Takes a Nap

Santa Claus isn't the only tired old man making the night rounds last week.

The burglar who broke into the San Bruno home of Helen Tomori Saturday night stopped off to catch 40 winks after gathering several hundred dollars worth of jewelry from dressers in the master bedroom.

"I'm certain I made the bed before going out," she told police, "and someone had been in it when I returned."

The burglar used "brute force" to batter down the front door of the house on Elm Avenue, police said, and "perhaps he was tired by the effort."

A watch, several diamond rings and necklace were taken.

In another burglary Saturday night, $320 was taken from Fred's Texaco Station on Sneath Lane.

Police said someone apparently hid in the attic of the service station before closing time, then rifled the cash register after employes left for the day.

After taking the money, he battered a hole in a wall to the women's restroom in order to escape the building.

SSF Rooftops Are Covered

One of the services of the South San Francisco fire department is protection from the elements when a home suffers storm damage.

The South San Francisco department over the weekend handled six "leaky" roof calls.

Fourteen firemen spent nearly eight hours putting six-ply plastic covers over holes in the roofs of the six buildings.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

By DONALD C. WAITE

DOES YOUR HOME HAVE "EUPHORIA"?

The dictionary defines euphoria as "a feeling of well-being" — and when all is said and done — this, more than anything else, is what every woman is hoping to accomplish in furnishing her home.

Take a slow walk through all your rooms and take a good, long look at all of your furnishings and decor. Look at your floors, walls and ceilings, at the colors, textures and arrangements of your furniture, and you will soon know if you get that feeling of well-being.

If you don't get this feeling (and many people do not) then, it's time to make some changes.

This does not necessarily mean that you need a complete refurnishing job. You may not need anything new at all. Your problem may be solved by rearranging your furniture or adding just one or two new things.

Just as many women get a lift by buying a new hat, you may do the same for your home by adding a piece or two. A new chair, lamp or a new cocktail table may do the trick. Very often a change of color can give a lift to a room. Do whatever it takes to create your own euphoria.

And when you need help, we stand ready to serve you.

Wife Gunned Down In a R.C. Tavern

A San Bruno man walked into a Redwood City bar Wednesday carrying a big pistol with which he shot and fatally wounded his wife as she sat talking to another man, the sheriff's office reported.

Booked at County Jail on a charge of murder after he was subdued by being hit over the head with a martini mixer and a beer bottle, was Paul Thomas Cavanagh, 56, 160 Castleton Way, San Bruno, a bartender at a bar at International Airport.

Dead is Eleanor Ruth Cavanagh, 38, who was pronounced dead at Sequoia Hospital at 2:17 a.m., about a half hour after the shooting.

No Statement

Sheriff's Capt. Eugene Stewart said that Cavanagh has declined to make any statement concerning the incident, which occurred at 1:45 a.m. in the Clover Club, Sixth Avenue and Middlefield Road.

According to Sheriff's Sgt. Paul Hart and Deputy E. L. Pronske. Mrs. Cavanagh was sitting at the bar talking to George A. Heins, 42, of 317 Sixth Avenue, Menlo Park, when Cavanagh entered and walked over to the couple where he stood facing his wife.

Heinz told the deputies that he heard Cavanagh mutter, "This is my wife."

Then there was a shot, Heinz related, and Mrs. Cavanagh slumped to the floor where she lay groaning.

Heinz stated that Cavanagh stood at the spot waving the gun, a .45 revolver, at the bartender, Al W. Whisin, 50, of Palo Alto. Heinz said he asked Cavanagh if he could secure assistance for Mrs. Cavanagh and that Cavanagh said all right.

Heinz went to the phone and called the sheriff's office for an ambulance.

As Heinz returned to where Mrs. Cavanagh was lying, Hart said, Cavanagh's attention was momentarily distracted. Whizin picked up a martini mixer from behind the bar and threw it at Cavanagh, hitting him in the head.

Whizin then vaulted the bar and began grappling with the gun-wielder. Another patron, Thomas B. (Sonny) Watson, 35, of 374 First Avenue, picked up a beer bottle and hit Cavanagh over the head with it.

Hart said that as he and Pronske entered the door the struggle still was going on, with Whizin gaining possession of the gun, which was loaded and cocked. As Whizin handed over the gun he accidentally dropped it on top of a pinball machine, but it didn't discharge.

Hart said Mrs. Cavanagh was groaning when he arrived. He stated that she had been shot in the right side between the rib cage and the hip.

$3364 in Bills

Cavanagh also was taken to the hospital where cuts on the top and back of his head were sutured.

Hart reported that Cavanagh had in his possession $3364 in cash, including 30 $100 bills, 15 $20 bills, 10 $5 bills and two $1 bills, as well as some change.

Cavanagh declined to say where he obtained the money or why he was carrying so much, although he did tell deputies that he occasionally did carry large amounts of money around with him.

The suspect was to be arraigned on the murder charge this afternoon in Southern District Municipal Court.

Injured In Auto Crash

Four San Bruno residents and a Santa Rosa man were injured early Sunday in an auto collision on Bayshore Freeway in Belmont.

Highway patrolmen said Stanley P. Kerrigan, 40-year-old telephone company engineer of 2320 Crestmoor Drive, San Bruno, was northbound at 2:35 a.m. when his sedan was overturned by another car and struck from the rear. Officers said the driver of the other car, Ronald R. Jensen, 24, of Santa Rosa, may have fallen asleep at the wheel. Both cars came to rest against the barrier fence in the center divider.

Taken to County General Hospital: Jensen, a rigger at the naval shipyard at Hunter's Point, extensive cuts of the face and head and internal injuries; Kerrigan, face cuts; Mrs. Alice Kerrigan, 38, face and head cuts; Harry Torkelsen, 50, of 2310 Crestmoor, face cuts and broken ribs; Mrs. Thelma Torkelsen, 49, leg and hand cuts.

$2,500 Pay Hike At Jeff

Jefferson Elementary School District trustees last week approved salary increases for the district's top administrative personnel, ranging as high as $2,500.

Under the schedule approved, Supt. Frank Greenwood's salary was increased from $22,000 to $24,000.

Assistant Supt. Roger Barthuli's pay was increased from $20,000 to $22,500, and Asst. Supt. Dr. Vinton Stratton's from $21,500 to $22,500.

Donald Pagani, director of personnel for the district, will receive $18,000. Pagani's salary was raised from $17,200.

In granting the raises Tuesday, trustees said the district's top administrators have not had a salary increase in three years, and the new schedule will place them in brackets "more in line with the high school district administrators."

Denis O'Leary, vice president of the Jefferson California Teachers Association, asked the board members why they did not use the high school comparison in determining salary schedules for the elementary district teachers last month.

"We are not placing these administrators on a par with the high school personnel," Board Chairman Thomas Moonan pointed out ."We are merely raising their salaries to the level of those in comparative elementary districts."

Jefferson High School District Supt .Edward Morgan's salary is currently $27,000 per year, Noonan said.

In other business, the board approved an $8,000 budget for the newly formed district personnel Commission, and formally appointed Mrs. Jeanne Kennaugh, Ernie Bloom and Mrs. Beulah Elsberry to the commission.

PAL Campaign in SSF

Boosters In Drive For Funds

A month long fund drive is now in progress by the Police Athletic League Boosters' Club in South San Francisco giving support to the program and secure the backing it needs for another year.

Funds are needed to purchase equipment and clothing to keep PAL activities in working order, includes nine baseball teams, a bowling league and now in the planning stage, soccer teams and a rifle team (gun safety).

In the past year the baseball teams had to be reduced to nine from eleven, not because of lack of interest in the young athletes but because of not enough uniforms to go around, and also lack of adult coaches and supervision.

Hoping to arouse the community's interest and support to this project is Maj. Richard Lockard (USA-retired), citizens' co-ordinator, who is heading the drive. Lockard says over 10,000 letters have been sent to local residents and businesses to enlist their aid.

KICKING OFF the fund drive for the Police Athletic League in South San Francisco are Sgt. James Datzman and Officer Joseph Simpson displaying a baseball trophy won last year by two young bowlers, Lynn Ingersoll and Gloria Garcia and ballplayers Craig Biagi and Russ Nicolopolous. (Post Photo)

Warriors Fete San Brunans

Wednesday night, December 20, will be "San Bruno Night" at the Cow Palace where the San Francisco Warriors play the Detroit Pistons in an NABA game at 8:30 p.m.

The Warrior management has offered the city 1,000 tickets in appreciation for the city's allowing the Warriors to use the San Bruno Recreation Center for workouts when the team's usual home courts were being used.

Donations of $1 per ticket is being asked by the city to aid the recreation fund's volunteer efforts which the city council cannot legally aid with tax funds.

This is the second year in a row in which the Warriors have feted the city of San Bruno.

Federal Aid Sought

An application for federal aid for $1,965,090 in airfield improvements at San Francisco International Airport was authorized Tuesday by the City's Public Utilities Commission.

The request, under the Federal Aid to Airports Program for the 1968-69 fiscal year, is for funds covering approximately 50 per cent of the cost of projects, according to George F. Hansen, airport general manager.

Projects included in the application and estimated costs are:

Extension of Tasiway G — to provide improved traffic circulation, particularly between the South Terminal area and Runways 28-Left and 28-Right—$520,000.

Construct high-speed exit taxiway for Runway 19-Left — to enable arriving aircraft to vacate the runway in a shorter time and distance than is presently possible — $190,000.

Extension of aircraft apron areas at Piers FF and G, $700,000.

Extension of crossover Taxiway 10-Right -A — to provide improved access to three of the Airport's runways — $180,000.

Reconstruction of apron pavement at Piers D and E by replacing bituminous pavement areas at gate positions with concrete pads designed to support heavy jet aircraft, $220,000.

Install centerline lighting on Taxiway B to provide better guidance for taxiing aircraft — airlines have requested such installations on taxiways — $155,000.

Engagement Of D.C. Girl Is Revealed

The engagement of their daughter, Lauren Noel, to Robert Wayne Layton, of Tacoma, Washington, has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Brandt of Daly City.

The young couple met while attending Washington State University, and Lauren, a graduate of Westmoor High, has also studied in France at the University of Paris.

News of the impending nuptials was revealed to her Kappa Delta sorority sisters at the Sweetheart dinner at the Chapter House this month, by means of the traditional candle lighting ceremony. A family party in her parents' home served to honor the newly engaged couple, with Lauren's younger brother, Michael offering the congratulatory toast.

The prospective benedict, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Layton of Tacoma, has a younger sister, Wendy, and attended high school in Chehalis, Washington. He is completing requirements for a degree in chemical engineering, and his affiliations also include membership in Delta Chi fraternity and editorship of the university's engineering magazine, the Technometer.

Wedding date has not been set, but is planned to follow completion of their education.

THE MICHAEL MONOZONS (Judith Krueger)

LAUREN BRANDT, ROBERT LAYTON

Judith A. Krueger Becomes Bride Of Michael Monozon

The San Bruno home of Mr. and Mrs. William Krueger was the setting for the reception which followed the recent marriage of their daughter, Judith Ann, to Michael Clifford Monozon.

The couple exchanged vows at St. Veronica's Church South San Francisco and is at home in South City after a wedding trip to Los Angeles and Carmel.

Judith wore a floor length silk sheath with a Chantilly lace train. Pearls caught her veil.

Kathy Krueger was her sister's maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Pam Quarq, Terri Cullen, and Pam Monozon, sister of the bridegroom. Their floor length frocks were moss green.

Michael, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Monozon of South San Francisco, asked John Hasting to be his best man. Guests were seated by Tony Leone, Dave Thompson, and Dick McLean.

The new matron was graduated from Capuchino and attended the College of San Mateo. Her husband was graduated from South San Francisco High School.

A Bit of Christmas Cheer for Elderly

A bit of Christmas cheer will be brought to the bedsides and wards of Laguna Honda Home for the Aged and The Little Sisters of the Poor by a group of youngsters from Daly City.

The kids are "The Troubadors," dancers and singers enrolled in the St. Francis Heights Dance and Music Guild.

On December 23, "The Troubadors," with a cast of 100, including an all-boy orchestra, will take a "Say It with Music" stage show to the Little Sisters of the Poor, Fourth Avenue and Lake Street, San Francisco.

After enteraining semi-ambulatory patients who are able to be wheeled to the institution's auditorium, the song-and-dance troupe will split up and do a portion of the show in each of the upstairs bed-ridden wards.

Following close behind will be "The Troubadors" own Santa Claus, depicted by Walter Misterman, 223 Del Prado Drive, Daly City, who in real life is administration officer of the U.S. Naval Shipyard at Hunter's Point.

Santa will have a gift box for each of the elderly patients, filled by neighbors and friends who learned of the project and by Dave Butler, manager, Mission Street store of Kirby's Shoes and by Richard Manfre, manager Guarantee Savings & Loan Association's Mission Street office.

On Christmas Eve, the Company will repeat the 60-minute show at Laguna Honda Home for the Aged.

Santa Claus will visit the bedsides of some 250 elderly patients, presenting each with a Yule gift box.

Each box for women patients contains scented soap, lipstick, nylons, walnuts, candy, cookies and toilet articles. The men will receive goodies, shaving cream, hankies, and toilet articles.

The Christmas Eve engagement will conclude a series of ten benefit shows performed by the St. Francis Heights Dance and Music Guild during December.

Mrs. Trudy Scanlon, director, said, "It will be a rigorous schedule," but then "The Troubadors" can relax and enjoy their own Christmas . . . until January when we do a New Year show for the Hebrew Home for the Aged."

Vincent Leonetti Claims His Bride

Friends and relatives of Dianne Marie Barrett and Vincent J. Leonetti gathered at the Holy Angels Catholic Church in Colma Saturday morning for their wedding. A reception at a private home in Daly City followed the 10:45 a.m. ceremony.

Dianne, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Barrett of Mountain View, wore a street-length, A-line white brocade dress with long sleeves and matching coat. A headpiece of rosebuds and leaves caught her four-tier veil, and she carried white orchids and carnations. She was given in marriage by her uncle, Raymond Doyle.

She was attended by Anne Marie Jacobs of Mountain View in a street-length, A-line dress of cranberry red cotton with short sleeves. She carried pink carnations.

Frank Belli of Daly City served as best man for his cousin. Vincent is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leonetti of Daly City.

For traveling to Southern California, the new matron changed into a yellow and peach wool suit with black patent accessories. They will live in Daly City.

The new Mrs. Leonetti received an associate of arts degree from Foothill College and now is a senior at San Francisco State College. She also is the sister of James and Ronald Barrett. Her husband, an alumnus of Riordan High School and the University of San Francisco, received his masters degree from the University of California. He now is employed as a salesman.

A Tree and Decorations Brighten Hospital in SF

Giving up lunch periods, as well as after school time, Westmoor Art Club members and art students made ingenious decorations for a spruce tree being admired by latients in S.F. General Hospital.

Spirals of colored paper, strings of popcorn, and styrofoan balls embossed with sequins are among the decorations on the tree.

Other original ornaments include various tissue paper creations, and decorations made of white netting, egg cartons, chicken wire, and wheat paste, Put together, these materials formed various original shapes.

In addition, atop the tree, bedecked with the traditional strings of colored lights, rests a three-dimensional colored tissue paper star.

Not only the tree, but other Christmas projects as well adorned the Westmoor art room. Paintings and figures of Santa Clauses, snowmen, and angels added to the Christmas spirit, at the Daly City high school.

A large mural on the art room window depicted wreaths, "Peace" wishes, and holly amid a background of snow. The snow affect was obtained through the use of sponges rather than paint brushes. Also a part of the window creation was a stained glass design contributed by Stephen Floyd.

A mobile by Cindy Espinosa added to the holiday decorations. Cindy's "Experiment" had an interior of steel wool surrounded by wires holding colored lights.

Mistletoe was abundant around the room, as were paper sculptures. Paper stockings hung from above a piano in the room and one large sign, by Bob Boyd wished everyone a "Merry Christmas."

Scouts Hold A Campout

Members of Boy Scout troop 275 held a campout in Junipero Serra Park, San Bruno, last month. At the last meal of the outing, officials of the local Rotary Club, the organization which sponsors the troop, were guests of the boys for lunch. The interesting menu included stew, broiled chicken, beef Strogonoff, and foiled steak, as well as cake which had been baked over open coals.

The Rotarians in attendance were Monte DeLong, William Schneider, and Chester Wiggins — all past presidents; and Oscar Lopez-Guerra, institutional representative for the troop.

The following week Boy Scout leaders of the troop were the guests of the Rotary at its meeting held at the Lazy V. Boys attending were Pete Churgel, senior patrol leader; Fred Barnhart, assistant senior patrol leader; Mike Bolger, instructor; Russ Coverdale, leader of the "Panther" patrol, as well as adult leader Fred Milam.

Each boy gave a five minute talk at the Rotary gathering and answered questions about the troop's activities. They emphasized the importance of advancement for each Scout and distributed copies of requirements for the various merit badges. Slides showing activities of the troop during the past year, including the recent trip to Washington, D. C., were shown.

Woman's Club To Provide Clothes For Needy Youth

South San Francisco's school nurse met recently with Mrs. Walter Yasinitsky, president of the South San Francisco Woman's Club, and Mrs. Ralph Marcus, first vice president, to formulate plans for the "Clothes Closet," a community project being launched by the club.

The nurse had brought it to the attention of the club in a recent letter that the cooperation was being sought in the community to provide shoes for needy children. The members responded and offered to open a "Clothes Closet" to provide clothing as well as shoes.

To provide funds several events are planned including a fashion show at the California Golf Club in February.

It will be a happier holiday season for friends of Mrs. Beatrice Batz who have been concerned by news of her poor health.

This column reported last week that Mrs. Batz had reired from her post as president of the Westlake Senior Citizens because of ill health. Mrs. Batz was quick to inform us that she has indeed retired, but her health is excellent.

Many apologies for the mistake.

Desserts for Your Christmas Dinner

NELL NORTON

(Sugar 'n Spice)

Good morning, good cooks.

And how goes it with all you little Santa's today?

Here it is December 20 and I know that you long ago mailed all your Christmas cards, all your gifts are wrapped and artistically arranged under the tree, all your baking and candy making is finished and you are sitting and rereading "Gone With the Wind" to while away the time until Christmas. Ho Ho!

What happened to my last year's resolution, made on Christmas Eve as I frantically sewed on my daughter's Christmas dress, that next year I'd be through by the 15th and able to sit back and enjoy Christmas?

I guess that resolution is in the same box with the others I've forgotten, such as keep up my ironing, lose weight, write more letters and not talk on the phone so much. Ah me, I learn nothing by experience.

I take that back, having learned by experience that when you have a large crowd coming to dinner it's great to get as many dinner preparations finished ahead of time.

And one of the things I've already finished and have waiting is the dessert. It's easy when you do it ahead.

ICE CREAM BALLS WITH CHERRY SAUCE

4 cups crushed cornflakes
½ cup slivered, blanched almonds
¼ cup butter or margarine
¾ cup sugar
2 tablespoons light corn syrup
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ qts. vanilla ice cream, divided into eight large balls.
(cherry sauce (see recipe below)

Mix the four cups crushed cornflakes and one-half cup almonds. Combine the one-fourth cup butter, three-fourths cup sugar, two tablespoons corn syrup and one-fourth teaspoon salt in a heavy pan. Cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, just until syrup bubbles over entire surface; remove from heat at once. Add flakes and almonds. Stir to coat evenly with syrup, turn out quickly onto large flat area covered with waxed paper. (The flat surface I used was my clean formica table top, it worked fine.) Separate crunch into small bits of flakes, using two forks, cool.

Take one ice cream ball at a time from your freezer and roll in crunch. Return it immediately to the freezer to harden, repeat until you have coated all the balls.

As I coated the ice cream balls, I placed them on a large cookie sheet and when they were good and hard I placed them in freezer bags to wait upon my pleasure.

CHERRY SAUCE

1 one-pound, 6-ounce can of cherry pie filling
2 tablespoons sugar
⅓ cup orange or cherry liqueur

Combine the one can of cherry pie filling with the two tablespoons sugar in a saucepan. Heat. I used a double boiler which simplified keeping it warm until I was ready to serve it. Just before serving stir in the one-third cup liqueur or if you wish substitute orange juice for the liqueur.

When ready to serve this glamorous dessert place an ice cream ball in dessert dish and pass the cherry sauce.

In order to suit many guests and varied tastes, I am going to double the amount of ice cream, making 16 balls, half of which will be rolled in the crunch, four plain and four rolled in flaked coconut.

THIS NEXT RECIPE is for a pie that's a beautiful pale green and has a minty flavor that would finish off a rich Christmas dinner nicely. Mrs. Frances Cohen, who lives at 1501 Thirty-fourth Avenue in San Francisco, gave me this recipe years ago and it is truly delicious.

GRASSHOPPER PIE

1½ cups chocolate cookie crumbs
4 tablespoons
24 large marshmallows
⅔ cup half and half
½ pint whipping cream, whipped
2 ounces white Creme de Cocoa
2 ounces Greene Creme de Menthe

Combine the one and one-half cups cookie crumbs with the four tablespoons melted butter and mix well. Press into a buttered 9-inch pie pan. Set in refrigerator.

In a double boiler, melt the twenty-four marshmallows in the two-thirds cup of half and half milk, stirring occasionally. Cool.

Stir the two ounces each white Creme de Cocoa and green Creme de Menthe into the cooled marshmallow mixture. Fold in the whipped cream. Pour into pie crust. Freeze. Thaw slightly before serving.

This next dessert is made ahead and set in the refrigerator to care for itself until you bring it forth to dazzle your guests. And this really is a dazzler.

GLITTER CAKE

1 pkg. each of orange, cherry and lime gelatin
3 cups boiling water
2 cups cold water
1 cup pineapple juice
¼ cup sugar
1 pkg. lemon gelatin
1½ cups graham cracker crumbs
1-3 cup melted butter
2 cups whipping cream

Prepare the three flavors of gelatin separately, using one cup boiling water and one-half cup cold water for each. Pour each flavor into 8-inch square pan. Chill until firm, or overnight.

Then mix pineapple juice with the one-fourth cup sugar. Heat until sugar is dissolved. Remove from heat. Dissolve lemon gelatin in the hot juice; then add one-half cup cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Meanwhile, mix the one and one-half cups graham cracker crumbs with the one-third cup melted butter; press into bottom of 9-inch spring form pan. (If desired, press part of crumbs on sides of pan.)

Cut the firm orange, lime and cherry gelatins into ½-inch cubes. Then whip cream, blend with lemon gelatin. Fold in the gelatin cubes, mixing carefully so you will get a colorful effect. Pour into the prepared spring-form pan. Chill at least 5 hours, or overnight. Run knife or spatula between sides of dessert and pan, and remove sides of pan before serving. If desired, spread additional whipped cream on top and sides.

If you feel that Christmas calls for pumpkin pie and would like to prepare it ahead and let it wait for you. Try this chiffon pie, with a spicy gingersnap crust.

GINGERSNAP CRUST

1 cup gingersnap crumbs
½ cup cornflake crumbs
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup melted butter

Combine the one cup gingersnap crumbs and one-half cup cornflake crumbs, with the one-fourth each sugar and melted butter. Press into 9-inch pie pan. Chill.

PUMPKIN CHIFFON PIE

2 pkgs. unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
3 eggs separated
½ cup sugar
1¼ cups pumpkin, canned
½ teas. salt
½ teas. cinnamon
¼ teas. nutmeg
½ teas. ginger
½ cup milk
½ cup sugar
½ pt. whipping cream

Soften the two packages gelatin in the one-fourth cup water for five minutes.

Beat the three egg yolks, add the one-half cup sugar, one and one-fourth cups pumpkin, one-half teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon each cinnamon and ginger, the one-fourth teaspoon nutmeg and the one-half cup milk. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Fold in the softened gelatin. Stir. Cool. When thick beat the three egg whites adding the one-half cup sugar, a tablespoon at a time and fold into the pumpkin mixture.

Pour into pie shell and place in refrigerator. If desired top with whipped cream to serve.

Mitchell-Shainin Wedding

Janice Ann Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Mitchell, was married recently at the Millbrae Community Methodist Church to Randall Howard Shainin. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Shainin.

The noon ceremony was followed by a reception at the Lazy V in San Bruno. From there the couple departed on a honeymoon trip to Carmel. They will live in Burlingame.

Janice, who was given in marriage by her father, chose a floor length A line gown of Chantilly lace over taffeta with a chapel length Watteau train. Her fitted Empire bodice featured a softly scooped neckline and long, pointed sleeves. A cluster of peau de soie roses and lace petals caught her elbow length English illusion veil.

Arlene Alliguie, the maid of honor, set the style of dress for the secondary attendants with her floor length Empire gown of peacock blue over taffeta. Her matching headpiece consisted of petal cups with midi-length veils.

Bridesmaids were Loretta Spinali of San Francisco, Linda Shainin of Millbrae, Connie Abbate of San Bruno, Elsie Downing of Burlingame, and Debbie Shainin of Burlingame, sister of the bridegroom.

David Shainin was his brother's best man, and guests were seated by William Mitchell of Millbrae. Janice's brother Thomas Polizzi of Millbrae, Rande Spinali of San Francisco, Salvatore Abbate of San Bruno, and Morey Serpa of San Jose.

Among the wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Schwartz of Redwood City, grandparents of the bride, and Aaron Shainin of San Francisco, grandfather of the bridegroom.

The new matron was graduated from Mills High School and attended the College of San Mateo.

Her husband was also graduated from Mills High School. He is in business with his father in Burlingame.

Knights Send Holiday Smokes

Grand Knight Frank Teeter announced today that Marian Council, No. 3773, Knights of Columbus, has sent 250 packs of cigarettes to the men in Vietnam for the Holidays.

John Richardson, Deputy Grand Knight, said the council held its annual children's Christmas party December 17 in the Holy Angel Parish Hall, San Pedro Road, Daly City.

Sex Education Lecture

"Sex Education in Public Schools" was the topic that brought four Westmoor High School students to Jefferson High District's Adult School recently to lecture before a sociology class.

Hoping to instill in the adults a realization of "the extreme need" for sex education in the curriculum, Ruth Goldman, Kathy Knowlton, Vivian Nommjarv and Phil Walker discussed the lack of sex education in school and in the home, the means students have sought to receive sex education, the results of the lack of sex education, and plans for its adoption into the school program.

In general, the students agreed that sex education should be included in the curriculum from the time that the student enters high school, insuring that by the time students graduate from high school, they will have a thorough and "natural" background on the biological facts of sexual reproduction as well as of dating, marriage and the family.

Pacifica Nick's Ready For the Year-End Fun

NICK AND LORRAINE GUST, a popular Pacifica restaurant team, invite you to join their New Year's Eve party fun, which will be a social as well as a fun gathering at their Nick's restaurant and lounge. Between political duties and other business activities, Nick manages to personally oversee his prominent Rockaway Beach restaurant operation. Lovely Lorraine supervises the kitchen and dining room action, which, you had better believe, is plenty active. Dick Snyder's Orchestra, Don Kelly at the organ and Mary Ann Hay on vocals adds up to a great entertainment package. Another holiday highlight at Nick's will be the special Christmas Dinner . . . Now is the time to make those reservations.

ORGANBAR ENTERTAINER Larry Wickersham, a perennial favorite with Peninsula lounge followers, opened last Wednesday night in the plush "Cork" room of Vic and Julie Proul's Fork 'n Cork restaurant. A stellar musical attraction in the Bay Area for quite some time, Larry's stint in the "Cork" room should only enhance his reputation. Appearing four nights a week, Wednesday through Saturday . . . Last week the New Christy Minstrels brought their trained voices and skilled musicianship to the Fairmont's Venetian Room for a three-week engagement, through January 3. Patterned after a company of pre-Civil War entertainers created by Edwin "Pops" Christy, the group is now under the guidance of George Grief and Sid Garris . . . The Social Security staff in San Francisco took time out for a steak dinner party in the private Executive Room at Lew Lehr's Steak House in SF's Marina.

On New Year's Eve, the Ercoli brothers will be serving dinner from 4 p.m. to 12 midnight at their famed Leaning Tower restaurant, in South San Francisco. Regular menu features and prices will be in effect. Your Bright Lighter urges you to make your reservations now . . . Finocchio's dancer, Renee De Carlo, does a dance that reminds veteran nightclub goers of Sally Rand's palmy days at the old Music Box during the Treasure Island Exposition of 1940. De Carlo's dips and turns, while carefully protecting himself from the spectators' gaze with champagne-colored ostrich-plumed fans, is a clever performance.

MERRY CHRISTMAS AND
HAPPY NEW YEAR

After travelling over a million miles, from the Hawaiian Islands to the eastern coast of our great country, speaking to universities, colleges, high schools, and at public functions, I am definitely convinced that all the confusion we see around us is very much magnified. We have failed to see all the good that is being accomplished by our youngsters, every day, everywhere.

Hence, I cannot face Christmas without serious thought of a prayer—a prayer that each of us will strive to make this a better world, a world in which we will live PEACEFULLY, side by side, with GOOD WILL toward our fellow man. PEACE is what brings PROSPERITY, LOVE, HARMONY, SYMPATHY, and UNDERSTANDING.

People everywhere have their eyes focused on America for moral and spiritual leadership. We cannot and shall not fail.

Our efforts toward PEACE should be re-affirmed at this Christmas as a token of FAITH in the PRINCE of PEACE.

May all that is good and gracious be yours throughout the coming year, and may 1968 harbor VICTORY and PEACE—bringing our brave men and women home soon.

"OH, COME ALL YE FAITHFUL, JOYFUL AND TRIUMPHANT"

MERRY CHRISTMAS AND HAPPY NEW YEAR

HOLIDAY DINNER — One of the nicest Christmas presents you could give or unwrap would be the special feast on Christmas Day at Bimbo's 365 Theater Restaurant, in San Francisco. The traditional turkey dinner with festive trimmings will be offered from 6 p.m. Maitre'd Graziano suggests a fine wine to complement the meal. Rusty Draper will headline the holiday show, ably assisted by comedienne Donna Jean Young.

R. D. Loomis, regional sales manager for Dodge cars and trucks, this week named Robert D. Knezevich, as district sales manager for the Santa Rosa District.

In his new assignment, Knezevich will be responsible for the wholesale sale of Dodge products to 16 dealers located throughout a nine-county area of the San Francisco region.

Knezevich joined Dodge's San Francisco region in June of 1967 and was assigned to the distribution and business management segments of the headquarters operation in San Mateo.

Radial ply tires, which will offer the motorist greater reliability and more miles per tire, are hazardous when mixed with conventional bias ply tires on the same car.

This word of caution come for Harold N. Barret, divisional president of U.S. Rubber Tire Co., a division of Uniroyal, Inc.

"It is important for the motorist to be aware of the possible hazards of mixing tires," he said, "in view of the growing use of radial ply tires."

If a radial tire and a conventional tire are placed on the front wheels, the difference between the two types in size and flex action of the sidewall causes a pulling to the side on which the radial is mounted. In this situation, the car will be more difficult to handle and steer.

If a radial and conventional are mounted on the rear axle, mechanical problems may arise due to the stress on the car's differential.

A design for a four-passenger safety sedan was introduced recently by a safety commission from the State of New York. According to Time magazine, the safety sedan was developed under a $385,000 contract by Fairchild Hiller Corp's. Republic Aviation Division. The sedan could, according to the safety commission, be mass-produced as cheaply as Detroit's lower-priced models and would be far ahead in safety. The design has such features as four-wheel drive for maximum traction and resistance to skidding, an all-window defrosting system, four roll bars, a "driver's periscope" affording wide-angle rear-view visibility, and a hydraulic, energy-absorbing bumper that extends forward one foot when the car speeds beyond 37 m.p.h.

The safety sedan is supposed to protect passengers against injuries in front and rear collissons up to 50 m.p.h., side accidents up to 40 m.p.h. and rollovers up to 70 m.p.h.

Car bumpers are one of the most vulnerable parts of an automobile, and the replacement cost can run up to $100. While Pontiac has introduced the new rubber bumper that is expected to absorb a lot of parking lot banging without being damaged, Motorland reports that there is a new water-filled plastic bumper on the market, which according to its inventor, John Rich of Sacramento, will reduce the severity of accidents. Called the Hi-dro Cushion Bumper, it is made of thick vinyl plastic and is filled with water. Upon impact, removable plugs pop which allow the water to escape, thus absorbing the energy of the impact.

Damage to vehicles is practically eliminated in front and rear-end accidents up to 20 m.p.h., and is materially reduced at greater speeds.

D.C. Teacher Award On Bill of Rights

Six teachers were presented awards and cash prizes in Los Angeles today for developing the best classroom materials in statewide competition designed to encourage better understanding by their pupils of the Bill of Rights.

The awards were presented during the second annual Bill of Rights luncheon marking the 176th anniversary of the signing of the Bill of Rights. The contest is an annual competition among California's teachers, sponsored by the Constitutional Rights Foundation (CRF). The luncheon was sponsored by the Lawyers Advisory Committee of CRF.

Among winners in the elementary school division was Paris B. Simmons, second prize and $200, an eighth grade teacher at Ben Franklin School in Daly City.

Simmons won his award for developing an eighth grade study unit on the U.S. Supreme Court and its responsibility for interpreting the Constitution.

Gun Display At Palace

Unique guns and revolvers, some dating back to the landing of the pilgrims in 1620, will be on display in the new Guns Americana exhibit at the San Francisco National Sports and Boat Show, January 12 through 21 at the Cow Palace.

Among the hundreds of guns exhibited will be the Smith and Wesson revolving rifle, a revolver with a 20-inch barrel and detachable shoulder stock for adaptation as a rifle. There were 976 of these firearms made in 1880, when the line was discontinued.

This year's show, the first national show in the country for 1968, will have the premier showing of all the new boat lines, luxury cruisers, sailboats, rubber boats, canoes and houseboats; in addition, all that's new in fishing, hunting, camping and vacation travel will be exhibited.

Show times are 2-11 p.m., daily; 11 a.m. to 11 p.m., Saturdays; and 11 a.m. to 7 p.m., Sundays.

RAFAEL CABEZAS, left, and his brother, Filiberto, look over a job at Rafael's new Post Office Shoe Repair Shop on Manor Drive in Pacifica. Rafael, who came to this country two months ago, left his wife behind in Cuba, and brothers are working to obtain her release from the communist island.

EYESORE OF THE WEEK

BART'S CONTRIBUTION to the Daly City eyesore scene is this burned out house in the Knowles, Niantic, Los Banos area — future site of the rapid transit station. The 13-acre lot is already cluttered with rubble left over from moving away homes to make the area ready for the station. This particular "eyesore" greets all motorists entering and leaving the city. Mixed Holiday Blessings For a Cuban Refugee

By DON GRIERSON

Probably no story around better illustrates the mixed blessings of the holiday season than that of a Cuban refugee who came to Pacifica two months ago and left his wife of 18 years behind in Communist Cuba.

These are lonely days for Rafael Cabezas, former director of a Cuban shoe manufacturing firm, but his new life in Pacifica has had its brighter side also.

With his brother, Filberto Cabezas, serving as translator, the operator of the Post Office Shoe Repair Shop on Manor Drive related a heartwarming tale of human kindness and the brotherhood of man.

Business at the new shop, which opened November 4, has been excellent, Rafael said, and residents of Pacifica have made the transition to his new life much easier than he thought it could be.

One Pacifica woman, whose name he has not learned, has stopped into the shop each day for the past three weeks and voluntarily given him lessons in English.

Even the children of the neighborhood have gone to great lengths to demonstrate their friendship and acceptance of the city's new resident, according to his brother.

Though he speaks no English, the 44-year-old shoemaker manages to communicate on a level sufficient to carry on his business, and make new friends among the customers.

But life cannot be easy for a family man separated from his loved ones, and Rafael lives for the day when his wife, Acela, can join him here.

Like many others, he left Cuba rather than join the Communist Party and support Castro's government.

A fairly well-to-do industrialist, Rafael was director of a shoe manufacturing concern owned and operated by his family for more than two generations.

When Castro succeeded in taking over Cuba, Rafael, a university graduate, was offered a position in the new government.

He chose instead to relinguish his plant and apply for a passport out of the country.

But leaving Cuba is not an easy thing, and Rafael was forced to wait several years before he was able to obtain passage to Miami October 2. He joined his brother, who managed to migrate from Cuba six years ago, in San Francisco two days later.

Filiberto, who is employed in the international department of the central Bank of America branch in San Francisco, was greatly concerned about his brother's welfare, but he need not have been.

On his second day in San Francisco, Rafael managed to obtain employment in a Mission District shoe factory.

His wages there, however, afforded a bare subsistence, and he decided to open his own shoe repair shop a month later when his brother managed to obtain the necessary machinery under a credit arrangement.

Filiberto, who has lived in Pacifica since escaping from Cuba, consulted Chamber of Commerce manager Bernie Lake in selecting a location for his brother's new shop.

Lake noted that there was no shoe repair service in the northern part of Pacifica, and recommended that the new business be located in his own city.

The shop, across Manor Drive from the Post Office, has been a going conern from the beginning, and Rafael is overjoyed with his financial success.

However, his facial reflections reveal his concern when he speaks of his wife and family in Cuba.

Emigration policies are not too well defined under Castro's government, he said, and each application to leave the country is considered individually.

When Rafael left, he was forced to place a considerable sum of money into the national bank, and leave all his financial resources behind.

When the communist revolution succeeded in Cuba, capitalists were allowed to keep $10,000 in the bank, he said, and also to draw $150 per month from their account for living expenses.

In order to come to this country, he had to replace all the money drawn from the $10,000 account during the past four years.

Both Rafael and his wife were more or less ostracized from the Cuban economy when they applied for passports to the United States.

His wife, a former teacher, holds a doctor's degree in philosophy, but is not allowed to practice her profession.

"We are very hopeful that she will be allowed to join Rafael here within the next two or three months," Filiberto said, "but there is no way to know for certain."

There's Always Hope

JOINING THE CROWD — I suppose at this time of the year every columnist and those who purport to be) have to say SOMETHING about Christmas. How about "Peace on Earth," or perhaps "Good Will Toward Men," even "'Tis the season to Be Jolly" they all sound kind of out of tune with what's happening around us. But keep that chin up. There's always hope! Maybe next year. . . .

HERE AT HOME out faith in today's youth has been given a further boost. It came during the fifteenth annual Daly City-Colma Chamber luncheon at International Joe's last week. Under the able direction of Howard Loeffler, the Westmoor High School choral group presented an exciting variety of seasonal songs — and had the audience singing right along with them on some of the good old traditional songs.

What stole the show (show biz talk) however, was a Christmas song written by Westmoor junior Kathy O'Shaugnessy, titled "I Will Follow." Another song that deserves applause is "That Christmas Night," written by naval navigator John Tuttle, presently in the air over Vietnam. Tuttle, a former Westmoor student, has written over 30 songs — some are now being published.

In their crisp seasonal attire, the mixed choral group held the guests spellbound through every number. In plain English: They were just GREAT.

BEST OFFICE IN THE COUNTY is occupied by Donna Ravetti, lovely wife of "Big" Dan Ravetti, partner in the Westlake Liquor store with Carl Barbata. Donna keeps the books for the store surrounded by cases and cases, shelf on shelf, of booze.

Of course that might not mean much to non-drinkers, but to us. . . .

THE D. C. BACCALA CLUB membership had a rare treat the other noon when famed chef Henrico Doelger prepared his specialty — cioppino — for them. Ingredients of the Italian dish are a well kept secret by chef Doelger (who has also gained a certain amount of fame in the construction filed around the Bay Area). Asked if he was considering working fulltime in Toto Spadarella's kitchen, chef Doelger replied, "He can't afford me."

"Too true," Toto agreed with tears staining his cheeks (he had just finished peeling a mountain of garlic).

P.S. That chef Doelger is also second to none in the joke-telling department.

Hurrah, Hurrah. One down, more to go.

BOUQUETS TO WESTLAKE SHOPPING CENTER management for adding to the festive scene for shoppers. They invited choral groups from both Jefferson and Westmoor High School, S.F. Letters To the Editor

Editor, The Post:

As a young man and only one person what I say might not mean much— but all taxpayers had better listen because it's their money, too.

I'm sick and tired of reading newspaper accounts and watching television news coverage of such "happenings" as what occurred at San Francisco State College this past Wednesday. As far as peaceful and organized 'sit-ins' for sensible changes, they're fine, but when private and public property and lives become threatened and bearded idiots have the pleasure of kicking glass doors in or breaking windows, then something more than just issuing statements to the press had better be done.

That's my tax dollar that's being abused, and if no arrests are made for "breaking and entering" or damaging public property, then there's something wrong. If this keeps up a lot of people are going to want their money used elsewhere — and college tuition will be the only support for colleges.

I'd like to add a "Bravo" for such people as Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan for making public statements and demanding action in behalf of my tax dollar and myself.

Something had better be done — and fast.

The Maddest Rush

The maddest rush of the entire holiday season is the day after Christmas when hordes of dissatisfied customers storm the stores to return or exchange gifts. The average Christmas shopper does not check the return policy of a store and incorrectly assumes that because one store has a certain refund-exchange-credit policy, all stores have, or should have the same policy.

The customer actually has no legal right to a refund of any kind unless the merchandise can be proven defective or misrepresented. Can a customer drive a new car for a week and then decide he does not like the color, it is not large enough?

The policy of refunds and exchanges is strictly a priviliege certain stores extend to customers. Some stores allow merchandise to be returned for a cash refund — credit on a charge account, applied on the cost of another purchase, an even exchange.

OTHER STORES have the same refund-exchange policy, provided the merchandise has not been damaged or used with the exception of no cash refund or credit on account. Number three policy is that the seller will not accept any returns unless it is proven the merchandise was faulty or misrepresented when purchased.

In all fairness, why should a merchant be expected to take back in January merchandise sold in good faith in December? The items, when sold, were taken off the stores shelves thus cancelling any chance of resale.

Christmas merchandise is seasonal and must be sold during the season or sold out at reduced prices to make room for the new spring stock. Also, the store must clear stock to raise cash for fresh merchandise.

The merchant is entitled to a fair profit for his investment. Considerable time and expense goes into the making of each sale. His salesman must be paid a fair wage and sometimes receives an added commission. Merchandise does not always live up to its expected appeal to the public and has to be sold out at a loss.

Some people deliberately shop with the idea that their purchases can be returned if the sizes are incorrect or if another type gift is preferable.

RETURNS AND exchanges add greatly to the cost of a business which, in the end, penalizes all customers. So, Christmas shopper, remember when buying gifts, returning or exchanging is a privilege that should not be abused. Try to buy the correct sizes, give a bit of thought when picking out the type of gift and make it a happier Christmas for all! !

Letter of Protest

A letter of protest has come to my desk.

"Regarding your column in the Post December 6, why do you literary people seize upon everything that is negative. Not even the character of Jesus is sacred to you. A crank writes a book that cuts Him low and all of you hurry to review it."

I do not worry about the assailants of Jesus. For nearly 2,000 years He has remained the Leader of the Western World despite men who have tried to ignore Him, belittle Him or change His image. Through dark ages as well as periods of enlightment, His gospel has been a source of inspiration to all classes of men.

He is a path, if any be misled.
He is a robe, if any naked be;
If any chance to hunger, he is bread;
If any be a bondman, he is free;
If any be but weak, how strong is he!
To dead men life is he, to sick men health;
To blind men, sight and to the needy wealth;
A pleasure without loss, a treasure without stealth.

—Giles Fletcher

In spite of a few philosophers and writers of the so-called realistic school who have sought to belittle Jesus, many literary men have helped mankind see His greatness and value His leadership.

RALPH WALDO EMERSON wrote, "An era in human history is the life of Jesus, and its immense influence for good leaves all the perversion and superstition that has accrued almost harmless."

Henry van Dyke found in the sermons and parables of Jesus what he called the Gospel of Labor and he wrote:

This is the gospel of labor, ring it ye bells of the kirk!
The Lord of Love came down from above, to live with the men who work.
This is the rose he planted, here is thorncurst soil:
Heaven is blest with perfect rest, but the blessing of earth is toil.

One of Van Dyke's most perfect poems, the Psalm of the Good Teacher, salutes Jesus for his teaching methods.

LONGFELLOW is one of many poets who paid tribute to Jesus man of action. In the closing lines of his Christus he wrote some oft-repeated lines:

Poor, sad humanity
Through all the dust and heat turns back with bleeding feet,
By the weary road it came,
Upon the simple thought
by the great Master taught
And that remaineth still,
Nor he that repeateth the name,
But he that doeth the will.

Long ago Chaucer wrote a story about the influence of Jesus on the earth. Milton saluted Him in his Ode On the Nativity, Shakespeare paid his respects. John Oxenham wrote so many poems about Jesus, he has been called the Poet of the Lord.

JOHN DONNE, Robert Herrick, Cardinal Newman, Lloyd Douglas, Sir Thomas More, Sir Thomas Browne are among hundreds of writers who were ministers in the Christian Church and wrote of their Master. Seventy pieces of fiction, 20 plays, 32 books of poetry about Jesus are listed in the latest books in print.

So when those who love the Lord stand up to be counted — as the poet, Leigh Hunt, suggests they will— literary men will be there.

Even some book reviewers may be present!

O Lord and Master of us all,
Whate'er our name or sign,
We own thy sway, we hear thy call,
We test our lives by thine!

Family Life

Family Service Agency Probes Home Problems

Parents who want to analyze seriously what is going on between them, their children and society are being offered an unusual program by the Family Service Agency of San Mateo County.

Small groups of 10 to 20 persons will be brought together under a trained professional social worker to explore the behavior patterns and the problems that children face in today's changing society.

Michael Miller, director of the agency, said the new program was part of an effort to meet the needs of the community for social guidance relevant to life as it is lived on the Peninsula. The Family Service Agency is the primary private voluntary social work organization in the county, offering individual counselling service at its headquarters in Burlingame and branch offices in Pacifica and Menlo Park.

Winifred Zwemer, a psychiatric social worker with 35 years experience in child guidance and other fields, has been engaged to conduct the new program for parents. She has resigned a post at the Redwood Medical Clinic and previously served in several cities in the U.S. and India. She has a master of social sciences degree from Smith College School for Social Work.

Miss Zwemer said she hopes to set up groups for parents of teenagers and other groups for parents of younger children. "Parents are having a hard time these days," she said. "We will sit down together and look at the bases of human behavior, the family relationships. Parents can bring up specific problems they are having."

An effort of this kind "to enrich the community" is especially suited for the educated, sophisticated and alert families of the Peninsula," said Miss Swemer, because "it is a talk method. To benefit, the participants must be people who are aware and are accustomed to the idea that talk can help."

Parents interested in the program may contact the Family Service Agency.

Gardening Gifts Enjoyed on Yule

By IVA NEWMAN

Everyone, be he adult or child, man or woman, beams with delight when a Christmas package reveals a gift pertaining to a loved hobby. Thoughtful and discerning gift givers know this and have fun choosing a gift that will bring pleasure for months to come.

At this time of year the pruning season is fast approaching and most gardeners are going over their pruning equipment as shears of several sizes are needed to do a really good job. Two basic sizes are a must for every gardener and home owner that must care for a garden. The first size should be to fit the hand perfectly. This means that when the shears, or clippers as some gardeners call them, are held in the hand the fingers can extend to allow the blades to open fully. The second pair should be large enough to need both hands for it will cut off branches around an inch in diameter. Anything larger than that will need a saw.

There are several good makes of garden shears on the market. Most popular are the Wilkinson Sword pruners. These shears have earned their popularity as they are light to hold and they make a clean cut every time when you use them properly and best of all they come in a wide assortment of sizes, to fit the smallest hand or branch or the big he-man hand. If your friend or relative is like most gardeners and lays the pruners down while gathering up the flowers or debris then forgets where they are laid, give one of the leather shear holders along with the shears. These holders can be threaded over a belt and they keep the pruners within reach at all times.

Spade Needed

Next on my list of needs for every gardener is a good, lightweight spade. This is not a shovel as the cutting edge is straight and the metal portion is flat and quite straight. We say lightweight as it can be used by a woman or a man who must practice his gardening hobby on weekends. A lightweight spade will do all the things a heavy one will and it will do them easier. We have both a heavy and a light spade and all the men in our family invariably choose the lightweight tool though they bought the heavy one. Our spade is a True Temper and it has given years of service. Don't buy a cheap spade as the handle either comes loose after the first few uses or it breaks and must be replaced. Also on the cheap spades the cutting edge needs sharpening too often.

Every gardener needs four basic hand tools, a trowel, a transplanter (narrow trowel), a cultivator and a weeder. Be sure to select ones with chrome plating as they are much easier to clean and they are rust resistant. We also prefer contoured, vinyl handles as they seem to prevent blisters. Some come with "hang-up" holes for easy storage and quick finding. These four tools are for close-to-the-ground jobs so frequently encountered in gardening.

Bulb Planter

We would like to add the bulb planter, recently invented by George Kelley, the grounds keeper at the Hillsdale Shopping Center. George invented this tool to speed up the planting of thousands of tulip bulbs his men have to put in each winter. It worked so well the public wanted one, so now you will find them in assorted sizes in the local nurseries. We have found they are also excellent for setting out bedding plants as well as for all kinds of bulbs. Why not add a couple of dozen tulip bulbs with one of these planters as the time after Christmas up to the middle of January is an ideal time to plant tulips because the soil is cool and stays cool until a good set of roots are formed.

Watering is the most frequently repeated chore every gardener in this area has to perform. The ideal is an automatic system with a time clock to turn the water off and on at a given time. If your gardener is handy with tools he could probably install one himself and thus save about half the cost.

Tulip Bulbs Win Favor Each Year

Each year, Keukenhof in Lisse, Holland, the world's largest bulb garden, attracts hundreds of thousands of visitors from countless countries. A poll is taken among these sightseers to determine which bulb varieties they admire most. This list is then proclaimed the "International Holland Bulb Selections."

The 1967 list of International Selections includes ten tulips, one hyacinth and one daffodil. Following are the ten tulips which earned a place of honor on this distinguished list:

LONDON — a rich red Darwin hybrid.

YELLOW DAWN — an Indian yellow Greigii hybrid.

GANDER — bright magenta in the Darwin class.

ARABIAN MYSTERY — a deep violet-purple Triumph tulip.

WEST POINST — a striking primrose yellow Lily-Flowered tulip.

KAREL DOORMAN — a cherry red and yellow Parrot.

BALALAIKA — turkey-red with yellow base, Cottage tulip.

MAUREEN — a white Cottage tulip.

CANATA — vermillion-red Fosteriana tulip.

JOHANN STRAUSS — white and red Kaufmanniana.

The award-winning hyacinth is PINK PEARL, a robust deed pink. Rounding out the list of favorites is the daffodil YELLOW SUN, a large-cupped golden yellow.

An Interesting Theory Advanced By McKay

JOHN McKAY, the guy who has O. J. Simpson and who is rapidly approaching Super-Hero status as football coach of the USC Trojans, came up with another of his interesting theories last week.

He said, in effect, that henceforth USC would be going all out for speed, and that he would accept speed from wherever he could find it.

"We're definitely looking toward the track men," he said. "This old saw that track men don't make football players because they're not tough enough isn't necessarily true. I'm beginning to think that football players don't have to be all that tough."

The implication was that if you move fast enough you don't have to be tough because people aren't going to be hitting you.

A couple of weeks ago we mentioned another McKay theory — that scrambling quarterbacks might soon become the vogue in pro football because it may be the best way to shake up stereotyped pro offenses. McKay disregarded the "axiom" that scramblers get hurt more easily.

"A scrambling quarterback will get hit mainly by defensive backs," he said, "a drop-back passer by charging front linemen. I'd rather have my QB's hit by 180 pounders than 250 pounders."

What McKay neglected to mention is that drop-back passers often get plastered even when they do get their passes off, so they're far from immune from punishment.

Which leads us to George Mira and how, given the chance, he might become the league's next Fran Tarkenton and lead the new breed of quarterbacks about which McKay was talking. Mira has a great arm and is probably a better runner than Tarkenton. This is all theory, of course, and McKay might be wrong and we might be wrong in agreeing with him and thinking that Mira may be the next man. But it will be interesting to get the chance of being proven wrong. And maybe exciting for the fans, Mr. Spadia. If you can't win for the fans, the next best thing you can do is thrill 'em (Remember McElhenny, Perry, Albert, et al?)

Speaking of quarterbacks, our sympathy goes to the scouts who must make judgments on such animals. It's much easier to be deceived by a QB's worth than it is by, say, a running back's value.

If a running back like O. J. Simpson — weighs 205 and runs the 100 yard dash in 9.3, you pretty much know what he's capable of, no matter how bad a team he's playing with.

But thinking and throwing are much more subtle arts, and any delicate imbalances may throw them off: poor receivers, bad protection, etc. By the same token, a good team—good protection, good receivers, good coaching—can make a mediocre quarterback look better than it can a mediocre halfback.

A FEW SEASONS AGO we devoted a column to explaining why you could never quite trust football records because statistics-keeping in this field — for a variety of reasons — is such an inexact science.

So out of the midwest recently came the following wire service report:

'Mike Cilek, sophmore quarterback for the Iowa Hawkeyes, broke the Big Ten record for pass completions and probably tied the league mark for one-game aerial yardage in Iowa's 21-19 loss to Illinois. The reason for the uncertainty was an apparent mistake by the Iowa statistical crew, showing Cilek with 26 completions — which would have tied the record — in 47 attempts. A check of game films disclosed he actually launched the football 49 times, connecting on 27, for 316 passing yards — tying the mark set last year . . ."

If you're still confused, imagine the plight of the statisticians!

NOW THAT WE'VE GAINED your confidence in the accuracy of football statistics, allow us to inform of how Bob Toledo and his San Francisco State Gators continued to set records (some of them negative, to be sure) even in their losing Camelia Bowl effort to San Diego State:

TEAM RECORDS: Most first downs passing (17), old mark 13; most passes attempted (60), old mark, 32; Most passes completed (28), old mark, 22; Most rushing and passing plays (82), old mark, 81; Fewest yards gained rushing (—9).

TOLEDO: Most passes attempted (54), old mark, 37; Most passes had intercepted, tied, 5; Most rushing and passing plays (57), old mark, 42.

ED LARIOS: Most passes caught (9), old mark, 8.

TOLEDO, incidentally, should have but didn't make the East-West game, but got some consolation by being named to the 20th Shrine Potato Bowl (Also known as the North-South College All Star Game) to be played at Bakersfield Memorial Stadium on December 23. SUGGESTION OF THE WEEK: Whenever a man runs a kickoff all the way back from somewhere in the end zone, there's almost always a controversy over estimation of exactly how many yards the run-back was . . . 103, 104, 105 yards, etc. Why not mark of the end zones in divisions of one yard? It would take away the guesswork.

Top Cage Team Still Goes Strong

South San Francisco High School's Warriors, defending North Peninsula League cage champs, and the Westmoor Rams, expected to give them their biggest fight for this year's title, are having opposite-styled practice sessions.

The Rams started strong but have tapered off the last two games, while the Warriors, still undefeated at 4-0, are looking better each game.

Last week's action saw the Warriors smash Crestmoor High School, 88-61, while the Rams were losing to a smaller Mills squad, 57-45. Aragon's Dons defeated Jefferson in another practice game, 48-38.

For the first time this year the Warriors' running and pressing game clicked, even with reserves in the lineup, and if they run as well as they did against the Falcons they could run away with the title.

Only two starters saw limited action after halftime when the SSF five held a 43-20 lead. Crestmoor made a brief comeback after intermission when the Falcons closed the gap to nine points but with forward Alex Smith and his little brother, Sam, steadying the offensive attack the Warriors quickly moved back to a comfortable 20-point lead.

The Smith boys each had 18 points in playing one half each. Crestmoor's Brad Markman was high scorer for the losers with 14 while Rick Tonini had 13.

Mills overcame a halftime lead of seven points by the slipping Rams to notch its' second win of the season. Guard Dan Armenta paved the way with a 17-point effort to hand the Rams' their second straight loss.

"Instead of improving as the season progresses we are getting a little worse each game," Lamented Ram coach Tony Giamonna. "We played a fairly good game for one half but we stunk out the place in that second half."

Grady Proctor was high for the losers with 17 points.

Jefferson had its four game winning streak stopped by the Dons' Mark Murphy who had 17 points. Never trailing in the gace the Dons raised their seasonal mark to 2-3 with a 40 per cent shooting effort.

Guard Leighton Ah Po topped the losers with 11 points.

Padres Snap Cap Winning Streak

Serra High School's Padres, who lost their first four games in a row this year, won their third straight last week with a resounding 69-45 victory over previously undefeated Capuchino.

The Padres, led by the board work and scoring of Greg Morasci and Pat McGlennon, spurted out to a quick lead of 15-10 at the end of the first quarter and were never headed after that.

The loss was Cap's first of the season after four straight wins. The Mustangs were playing without the services of their ace front-liner, Roger Carmine, who suffered bone chips in an ankle earlier in the week.

Serra got a combined 40 points and 27 rebounds from Morasci and McGlennon.

A Corn Variation Of Indian Bread

Bread made from Indian corn helped the Early American settlers survive the first critical winters in a new land and was always served at their Christmas dinners.

The Indian squaws taught colonial wives to make the rounded cakes, baked in hot ashes, that later came to be known as "corn pone."

A porridge of meal and water served for breakfast was later developed into spoon bread.

Today Americans everywhere can enjoy tempting, delightfully different Corn-Cheese Sticks, a modern variation of corn bread Both cornmeal and cream-style corn are used with a new modern ingredient — Betty Crocker Cheese Dinner Muffin Mix — to make these zesty, delicious Corn-Cheese Sticks.

Cheddar and Parmesan cheeses combine to make these new bread-style muffins a tantalizing treat with meals. And the corn stick variation is only one of the creative bakings you can easily make from this mix in your kitchen.

Do try Dinner Muffins soon — they are sure to add something special to your holiday meals!

Here is the recipe as developed in the Betty Crocker Kitchens.

CORN-CHEESE STICKS

1 package cheese dinner muffin mix
½ cup cornmeal
1 can (8½ ounces) cream-style corn
⅛ teaspoon Tabasco

Heat oven to 400 degrees. Lightly grease corn stick pans or 18 medium muffin cups. Prepare cheese dinner muffin mix as directed on package except — before mixing, add cornmeal, corn and Tabasco. Pour into prepared pans. Bake in corn stick pans 12 to 15 minutes, muffin pans 15 to 20 minutes. Makes 28 corn sticks or 18 medium dinner muffins.

Try Sweet Pumpkin Pie

SWEET PUMPKIN PIE

2 large eggs
1 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon pumpkin-pie spice
1½ cups mashed cooked pumpkin
1 cup undiluted evaporated milk
1 9-inch pie shell with high fluted rim, unbaked

In a medium bowl, beat eggs slightly; stir in the sugar, salt and spice to blend, then the pumpkin and milk. Pour into pie shell. Bake at 425-degrees until a knife inserted 1½ inches from side of filling comes out clean — about 40 minutes. Cool on wire rack; serve warm — with or without whipped cream.

Easy Sponge Cake Filling

Crushed pineapple and whipped cream make an easy and delicious filling for rolled sponge cake. Put the dessert together the day before and frost with additional whipped cream before serving. Garnish with candied fruits and nuts. Looks festive for the holidays.

this time of the year,
when the house is filled with the delightful aroma
of Christmas bakery,
when cakes, candies, nuts and all sorts of goodies tempt the snacker on every hand, it is a wise idea to stop and consider how easy it is to put on pounds and how hard it will be to take them off after New Year's Day. Nobody wants to take all the joy out of the holiday season, but a reasonable degree of moderation should not be too hard to achieve.
The children will feel better and have more fun if they do not go overboard on the sweets, and the older children, who call themselves grown-ups, will do just as well to go a bit easy on the cup of cheers as well as on the Christmas dinner. This dinner should be a pattern for good nutrition containing, as it does, a variety of many foods.
But, it should not become an excuse for eating more than is wise
and sensible. A light breakfast and a good brisk walk BEFORE dinner will also be helpful in maintaining a feeling of well-being which is so essential to a MERRY CHRISTMAS.

Plum Pudding Recipe From Old England

What guest could resist wine souffle, pronounced "particularly good after Christmas, or any other heavy dinner" . . . or Great Aunt Janie's Christmas Plum Pudding, the receipt brought to this country six generations ago by the wife of a retired officer of the British Army?

Because Christmas time is hospitality time the world over, hostesses don their aprons and search for the most tempting of receipts. Any hostess who has a copy of "Charleton Reciepts" in her kitchen will find within its covers the receipts for never-fail holiday far.

Proceeds from the sale of the cookbook are used to help support the community projects of the Junior League of Charleston.

Wine Souffle

- 7 egg whites
- Pinch of baking powder
- ½ cup of broken English walnuts
- 7 tablespoons sugar
- ½ cup of raisins

Rice-Chipped Beef Curry New Favorite

Americans have been "currying" all sorts of meats, poultry and fish since they have learned to like the spicy flavor of curry powder — the blend of more than 16 different ingredients, among them coriander, cinnamon, nutmeg, turmeric, ginger, red peppers, and cumin. Curried shrimp is popular with hosteses across the land and curried chicken and turkey are favorite ways to use the remainder of roast capon or the holiday bird.

Now there is a new American favorite curried food — chipped beef. It's an unusually delicious and attractive dish and, at the same time, delightfully inexpensive. For this dish, grated cheese and chopped vegetables are stirred into the curry-flavored sauce along with the chipped beef. And instead of spooning the mixture over beds of cooked rice, the rice is blended into the mixture to absorb the medley of flavors.

Cook rice — any favorite kind of rice — especially for this dish, if you like, or prepare a batch of cooked rice a day ahead. Then you'll have enough for breakfast servings of cereal full of food nutrients — protein, calcium, iron and B-vitamins — with enough leftover for Rice Chipped Beef Curry.

Menu accompaniments for Rice Chipped Beef Curry might be: asparagus bundles with pimiento strips, molded apple and pecan salad, Parkerhouse rolls, and lemon chiffon tarts for dessert.

Rice-Chipped Curry

¼ cup diced green pepper
½ cup diced celery
½ medium onion, chopped
3 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
3 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
2 cups grated Cheddar cheese
1½ cups cooked rice
5 ounces chipped beef, diced
¾ teaspoon curry powder
¼ teaspoon paprika

Saute pepper, celery, and onion in butter. Blend in flour; add milk and stir until sauce is thickened and smooth. Stir in cheese; heat until melted. Add cooked rice and beef. Mix in curry powder and paprika. Heat through.

Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Oven Cakes That Pleases Young 'n Old

A very special pancake, large size, pleases young and old.

Fresh Fruit Cup
Christine Pines' Oven Pancake
Grilled Sausage Beverage

CHRISTINE PINES' OVEN PANCAKE

¾ cup sifted regular flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
3 large eggs
¾ cup milk
3 tablespoons butter

On wax paper, stir together the flour, salt and sugar. In a 1-quart mixing bowl, beat the eggs until thick and ivory color. Add flour mixture; beat gently to blend. Add milk, beat until smooth, scraping down sides. Meanwhile in a 10-inch iron skillet with heatproof handle, in a 450-degree oven, melt the butter and heat the skillet; til skillet to spread butter over bottom. Pour batter into hot buttered skillet and bake in a 450-degree oven until pancake has risen in irregular puffs, climbed up sides of pan and browned — about 15 minutes. Sprinkle with confectioners' sugar; with 2 forks, tear into wedge-shape pieces. Lemon wedges may be served so juice may be squeezed over individual portions of pancake. Makes 5 servings.

Cling Peach Harvest Off

California's 1967 cling peach harvest was off some 26 per cent from last year's volume in terms of the canners' total pack. according to figures released recently by a growers' bargaining association. The total supply of canned cling peaches is down 20 per cent from a year ago.

The shortened supply of the fruit — the international favorite among canned fruit consumers — has pushed the per case price received by canners up some 22 per cent above last year's price, a fact the housewife has already noted, judging from the lagging sales.

Yule Touch Is Tempter

A pre-or post-holiday tempter in a casserole has layers of pared. sliced apples with cooked or canned sliced sweet potatoes. Top with sliced smoked pork shoulder roll (butt) or sliced Canadian-style bacon. Since all foods are cooked, except apples, use a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 to 35 minutes for heating a 11 quart casserole.

Meaty shortcake is another treat. Bake cornbread in a round layer cake pan and serve with creamed luncheon meat on top and in between layers.

Christmas Blend of Solemnity, Gaiety in Brazil

Christmas comes to South America during the summer season. Instead of holly and mistletoe, tropical plants and blossoms are the holiday decorations and a pine or cypress is the Christmas tree.

Traditionally, Brazilians observe Christmas as the most important religious restival of the year. It is a blend of solemnity and gaiety, old customs and new. Everyone in the family participates in the age-old ritual of building the sacred creche. On Christmas morning, the children hurry to see the wonderful toys Papai Noel has left in their tiny stockings and shoes.

Holiday dinner in Brazil is served after midnight mass on Christmas Eve. As in North America, turkey is usually the featured dish, but delicious Christmas Duck or "Pato de Natal" is also popular.

Come to think of it, succulent duck might be a welcome change for your Christmas menu this year. The chestnut-filled "Pato de Natal" has a particularly enchanting flavor from the seasoned-wine marinade. It's a gourmet dish idea for holiday feasting?

The authentic accompaniment to Brazilian poultry is "Sarabulho" — a fruit, giblet and bread mixture served along with the duck. You will note that there is no bread in the duck's chestnut filling.

Dessert and Demitasse

Whatever the main course for Christmas dinner, or how plentiful it is, the Brazilians always have a little room left for the traditional fried egg toast called "Rabanadas." For something a trifle lighter, but still in keeping with Brazilian cookery, we suggest cool, sweet "Pudim de Cafe'."

Dinner in Brazil, holiday and every day, ends with a cup, or two or three, of rich fragrant demitasse. If you would like demitasse at your holiday dinner, brew with one Approved Coffee Measure (equal to two level measuring tablespoons) of coffee to each four ounces of fresh, cold water per serving. And remember that just one tiny cup of demitasse will hardly suffi e.

Christmas Duck (Pato de Natal)

2 cups dry white wine
2 garlic cloves, minced
Juice of 2 lemons
4 teaspoons salt, divided
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 tablespoons chopped chives
2 ducklings 4 to 5 lbs. each
Duck giblets, cooked and chopped
2 tablespoons melted butter
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
Few grains pepper
1 lb. chestnuts, boiled and chopped
¼ lb sliced bacon or ¼ lb salt pork, sliced

Combine wine, garlic, lemon juice, 2 teaspoons salt, parsley and chives. Pour over ducklings. Marinate overnight. Drain ducklings and dry thoroughly. Stuff with the following mixture: chopped giblets, melted butter, nutmeg, pepper, chestnuts and remaining 2 teaspoons salt. Arrange slices of bacon or salt pork over breast. Roast at 375 degree for 1 hour and 45 minutes, or until done. Serve on hot platter. Makes 8 servings.

Good Food Is One of Greatest Pleasures of Traditional Holiday Season

Good food is one of the greatest pleasures of the holiday season. It's the time when you want everything to look and taste simply wonderful. Try these traditional holiday recipes. You will have a simply wonderful holiday season.

Mincemeat Chiffon Pie

2 nine-inch baked pie shells (cooled)
2 envelopes gelatin (unflavored)
1 (12 oz.) can (¾ cup) apricot nectar
2 egg yolks, beaten
1 (28 oz.) jar (approx. 2¾ cups) brandied mincemeat
2 egg whites, beaten until foamy, but not stiff
1 pint heavy cream, whipped (save half for garnish)
glaze cake mix

Sprinkle gelatin over half cup apricot nectar. Heat remaining nectar just to boiling point. Add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Add beates egg yolks and mincemeat and stir well. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold egg whites, then one and a half cups whipped cream into mixture; mix well. Turn into pie shells. Garnish with remaining whipped cream and glace cake mix.

Yams and Pecans

2 (1 lb. 2 oz.) cans small whole yams, drained
½ cup pecans, finely chopped
¼ cup butter
¾ cup brown sugar
½ cup apricot nectar (drink remainder or save for basting)

Arrange yams in greased shallow baking dish. Press chopped pecans into tops of yams. Melt butter in saucepan, add the brown sugar and apricot nectar and cook until syrupy — about five minutes. Pour syrup over top of yams slowly. Bake in preheated 350 degree oven about 30 minutes or until well glazed. Serves six to eight.

Hors d'Oeuvres and Garnishes

Make an attractive hors d'oeuvres platter for a holiday table with the following:

Marinated garbonzos
Dilled green beans
Pickled party sliced beets
Tiny size spiced whole artichoke hearts
Black and Green Olives
Pickles

Mix crab or shrimp with seafod cocktail sauce and spread on crackers — simply wonderful for holiday snacks or hors d'oeuvres.

Temptation Fruit Cake
Mix Number One

1 (1 lb.) jar glace cake mix
1 cup almonds, slivered
1 cup raisins, cut in half, if desired
1 cup currants
1 teaspoon allspice
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon mace
½ cup fruit juice (grape, orange juice, etc.)
¼ cup molasses
2 tablespoons brandy flavoring or sherry (optional)

Mix Number Two

4 eggs
1½ cups pre-sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon soda
2-3 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
½ cup butter (1 bar, ¼ lb.) melted

Combine mix number one in a large mixing bowl. In the order listed, add mix number two to same bowl and stir in each ingredient well. Pour batter into greased aluminum foil pans or metal loaf pans lined with greased waxed paper. Preheat oven to 300 degrees and bake approximately 1¼ hours or until fingertip touch leaves no imprint. (A pan of water in the bottom of oven helps keep cake moist. Makes two loaves in 8½x4½x2¼. Approximately four pounds.

Spiced Crab Apple Mold

1 (14 oz.) jar spiced whole crab apples
1 envelope gelatin (unflavored)
½ cup of cold water

Sprinkle gelatin over cold water. Drain liquid from crab apples into a saucepan and heat. Add gelatin to heated liquid and stir until dissolved. Place all but four or five crab apples in a two-cup mold. Pour hot gelatin mixture into mold and chill. Decorate with remaining apples and fresh mint leaves.

Celery Victor

1 (1 lb.) can (approx. 4 stalks) celery hearts, drained. Reserve 3 tablespoons of liquid
¾ cup olive oil
1 clove garlic, crushed
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1½ teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon dry mustard
anchovy paste (¼ inch strip)
2 tablespoons red wine vinegar
Sliced pimientos

Mix the oil, garlic, worcecestershire sauce, sugar, salt, mustard and anchovy paste. Beat in vinegar and reserved celery liquid with fork. Pour over celery and let marinate in refrigerator until well chilled. Decorate with strips of pimiento.

Cook Duck With Cherry, Rice Stuffing

Duckling with Cherry Rice Stuffing is a glamour dish for cold weather parties. The epicurean treat is easily prepared, and for a spectacular entrance, could be brought flaming to the table if desired.

The fruity flavor of the sauce is incorporated into the rice stuffing for the duck. Use the family's favorite kind of rice for the stuffing: regular white milled, brown, parboiled or precooked. Cooked first according to directions on the package, then measured and used as directed in the recipe, each type will give perfect results in terms of tenderness, just-right consistency, good taste and good nutrition.

Because the stuffing is so flavorful, it is suggested that a double batch be prepared: some for the cavity of the bird and the remainder to bake along with the poultry for serving of "seconds."

When preparing a duckling for roasting, stuff the body cavity and the neck, too, folding the skin flap to the back where it can be skewered to hold in the stuffing. Close the body vent if you want, using slender steel skewers and string lacing; or leave the vent open so the stuffing swells out attractively durng roasting.

Duck devotees want their poultry well browned, frequently with crisp skin. The duck will brown appetiingly in a moderate oven and you can crisp the skin further under the broiler, if you like, before serving.

DUCK WITH CHERRY RICE STUFFING

1 ready-to-cook duckling (4 to 4½ pounds)
Salt and pepper
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 cup chopped onion
1 cup chopped celery
6 cups cooked rice
2 tablespoons grated lemon rind
1 teaspoon thyme
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups chopped nuts
1 can (1 pound, 4 ozs.) pitted bing cherries
3 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons currant jelly

Season cavity of duckling lightly with salt and pepper.

For the stuffing, melt butter in skillet; add onion and celery and cook until tender but not browned. Add rice, lemon rind, thyme, salt, and nuts.

Drain cherries, reserving juice; measure 1 cup of cherries and cut into quarters. Add to rice mixture; toss lightly to mix well. Stuff duckling. Truss duckling and place breast side up on a rack in shallow roasting pan. Bake in 325 degree oven about 3 hours, or until done. (Spoon remainder of dressing into a buttered casserole to cook along with the duckling the last hour of cooking, or freeze the casserole for future use.)

For the sauce, measure 3 tablespoons fat and drippings from duckling. Heat in a skillet; add flour and cook over medium heat until flour is browned. Measure reserved cherry juice; add water to make 2 cups. Stir into mixture in skillet; add remaining cherries and currant jelly and simmer until jelly is melted. Serve duckling accompanied by sauce.

To serve duckling flaming, place bird on serving platter and pour sauce around it. Heat ¼ cup brandy in small saucepan just until warm. Tilt pan and hold lighted match close to it until brandy flames; then pour flaming brandy over duckling.

Yields 6 servings, more of stuffing.

2 Arrested At Pacifica Truck Stop

Two men were arrested at a Pacific truck stop last week after they allegedly assaulted a police officer.

Alvin Bair, Jr., 137 Manor Drive, Pacifica, and his Son Michael, 21, of South San Francisco, were charged with assaulting a police officer during the course of a disturbance at the D and B Truck Stop on Cabrillo Highway.

Sgt. Ray Karcewski, of the Pacifica Police Department, said he was forced to use MACE gas on the two men after both attacked him with their fists.

Karcewski was called to the truck stop about 12:30 a.m. when the manager reported the two men were using abusive language and insulting the other patrons.

Karcewski attempted to arrest the pair, but they refused to get into his patrol car, police reports stated.

TWO RECENT graduates of the Pacifica Dog Fanciers Club obedience school are Mistilhills Bonnie Belina, an Old English sheep dog, and Commanche Teak, a Labrador Retriever. Their owners, Carol Elliot and Jim Brush, compare scoring by judges on obedience trials that gave dogs their Companion Dog degrees. Mistihills and Commanche are among the 20 dogs and their masters who attend obedience classes on Thursday nights at Nike base in Pacifica. (Post Photo)

4 Windows Blown Out

Four large windows were blown out of downtown businesses in South San Francisco between 10 p.m. and midnight Wednesday, and a porch was swept off at least one residence in the Sunshine Gardens area.

Police said fire and public works employes "tied down" the roofs of several houses during the period of highest winds between 10 p.m. and 1:30 a.m.

In San Bruno, a PG&E line at Skyline Drive and Sneath Lane was downed by tree limbs blown off by the wind.

More than 1,000 homes were dark between 11:50 p.m. and 12:15 a.m. by the power outage, a company spokesman said.

A small fire was started by the downed wires, but the fire was quickly controlled, according to the fire department.

Truck Wreck Halts Travel

A big gondola trailer containing 27,500 pounds of bulk cement overturned on Cabrillo Higrway at 4 a.m. Monday and blocked the northbound lane for five and one-half hours.

Highway patrolmen said the trailer was the second of two trailers being towed by a truck driven by Alfred W. Robinson, 49, of Rohnert Park.

Robinson told officers he was driving northbound at 4 a.m. when the rear trailer broke loose, careened against an embankment and overturned in the northbound lane. Robinson said he was able to bring the truck and remaining trailer to a stop without further damage.

The accident happened about four-tenths of a mile south of Pacifica in the Devil's Slide area.

An extra-heavy tow rig was sent to the scene to right the trailer.

Bruno Girl Wins Trophy

Priscilla Bakos, a seventh grade student at Parkside Intermediate school in San Bruno was the winner last week of a trophy and a $400 savings account for her winning essay on the theme of civic law and order. The school was given a $250 check to spend on a project of its choice. In her essay the young Peninsula student, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bakos, 901 Kains Avenue, San Bruno, urged formation of strong police reserve in case of emergency.

Other winners on the Peninsula in the contest sponsored by Eureka Federal Savings and Loan Association were Darlene O'Banion, 14, 3811 Colby Way, San Bruno, and freshman at Oceana High School in Pacifica and Lucille Quartararo, 14, 1341 Cedar Street, San Carlos, a freshman at Notre Dame High School, Belmont.

Knife Slaying Suspect Held

Murder suspect Mose Baker was bound over to the Supreme Court following a hearing in the Northern Judicial District Court, South San Francisco, last week.

Baker, 28, is accused of the fatal stabbing of William White, 43, father of six children at a Daly City construction site last month.

The incident occurred following what witnesses described as a "friendly" card game, police said.

Pacifican Injured In Bruno Crash

A Pacifica woman was injured Thursday afternoon in an automobile accident at the intersection of San Bruno Avenue and Skyline Boulevard in San Bruno.

Police said Louise Kara, 54, of 1119 Rosita Road, was treated for neck injuries at Peninsula Hospital after the accident occurred at 4:15 p.m.

Officers said Mrs. Kara's vehicle collided with a car driven by Robert A. McGoon, of 25 West Manor Drive, Pacifica.

Jefferson High District Teachers Ask More Than Just Line Changes

By WILL E. THOMAS

The teachers in the Jefferson High School District are concerned with more than just boundary changes and ethnic balance in Daly City and Pacifica schools.

They, in the strongest terms possible, are urging trustees of the district not to slight what teachers and administrators alike call "quality education."

The teachers, as a unit, according to a faculty committee headed by Michael A. Tugendreich, have compiled a "minimal" list of "educational requirements" to be considered by trustees during boundary-racial balance analysis.

"The committee recognizes that any boundary change in and of itself is temporary and cannot solve racial, numerical or class imbalance," Tugendreich has pointed out on behalf of the teachers.

"A boundary change can provide integration only if it is coupled with a truly creative and flexible educational program," a combination that would "result in quality education, as well as the preservation of the individual strengths of each school," the committee has agreed.

The faculty sees such an educational program as directed toward three key goals:

—The elevation of the intellectual attainment of all the students in the district.

—The provision of special opportunities for the culturally and educationally deprived.

—The promotion of sound moral and intellectual education to bring about mature, self-confident and mutually respectful relations between the races.

The attainment of these goals, according to teachers of all five Jefferson District high schools, could be achieved with these "minimal conditions and services."

—Establishment of a special services program for students with learning problems, with initial emphasis at Jefferson High in Daly City, possibly using reading specialists, full-time psychologists for testing and diagnosis of specific learning problems, establishment of in-service or extension programs to equip teachers with skills needed for new programs or curriculum, and teacher clusters to allow for more flexibility in working with students.

—Establishment of adequate time and lower class leads to allow teachers to plan and participate in creative progress.

—Provision for voluntary teacher-student and program exchange among the schools.

—Provision for student activity exchange programs, community-school coordination, for close coordination with elementary feeder schools in testing and exchange of educational information, for close coordination between business, industry and school.

—Planning of programs that emphasize the particular strengths of each of the high schools (with the possibility students could be bused to a particular school for a specific course).

—Establishment of human relations courses on the ninth-grade level of each school, of Jefferson as a laboratory school in cooperation with San Francisco State and other interested colleges, and of paid committees of qualified teachers to plan programs and curriculum.

—Provision of adequate funds for extension or remodelling of existing facilities to accommodate flexible or innovative programs.

—Encouragement by the district to increase the number of minority teachers on all faculties.

The educational recommendations were included in this week's package of faculty suggestions for realignment of school attendance boundaries and improvement of racial balance in the district.

Boundary changes must be considered because of the construction of Serramonte High School, to be opened in 1969. Westmoor and Jefferson High boundaries will be affected, and in re-drafting lines the trustees are bound by law to consider the ethnic makeup of each school at the same time.

The district's board has been pondering the changes for 3¼ years, and decision finally is expected sometime in February — possibly around the fifth.

District Supt. Edward D. Morgan wants to know in which direction trustees want to go, since some things for Serramonte High must be handled financially in next year's budget.

Club Hears India Talk At Westmoor

The Westmoor High School Explorer's Club, specializing in guest speakers and extensive field trips, heard world-traveler Paul Zimmerman review his travels in India with a slide lecture last week.

Zimmerman, a teacher of sociology, world history, and Far Eastern history, toured India the summer of 1961 and studied it extensively. He has also traveled through much of Europe and the Far East.

Discussing the great devastation created by the severe annual monsoons, Zimmerman showed slides of the floods he experienced in 1961.

The membership of the San Bruno Chamber of Commerce has returned five directors and elected five new directors to their 20-man board for the coming year.

The newly elected directors will serve a two-year term, 1968 and 1969, beginning in January.

Those directors returning for another two-year term are: Al Cloud, San Bruno Herald and Recorder Progress; William Isackson, Roos Department Store; Tom Palmer, My Cleaners; John Pierce, Kay Pharmacy, and Dick Stagg, Stagg's Photographers.

The five new directors for 1968-69 are George Corey, Bible and Corey, attorneys; James Molderby, the Bank of California; Frank Marchand, Mustache's Pizza Parlor; Juan Mir, American Airlines, Inc., and Roy Tierney, Mark Morrie Tire Company.

The elections were held December 14 at the Chamber of Commerce office. Mailed ballots were held by San Bruno Postmaster Don Risso and counted by judges Harold Highsmith and Al Cloud, assisted by Chamber Manager Larry Mobley.

The new directors, together with 10 holdover directors serving 1967-68 terms, will elect officers January 9. The board will meet for breakfast at 8 a.m. in the Uncle John's Pancake House.

The annual installation dinner-dance of the chamber will be January 27 at the Green Hills Country Club in Millbrae. Judge F. Jose de Larios of the San Mateo County Northern Judicial District Municipal Court, will be the installing officer.

Accusation Cites Trouble At Brisbane

An indictment accusing Lillard (Tex) Dyer, suspended Brisbane police chief, of embesslement and fraudulent misappropriation of public funds was voted Wednesday by the San Mateo County Grand Jury.

The jury also voted an accusation which could remove Dyer from public office, citing five areas of willful and corrupt misconduct in office, District Attorney Keith C. Sorenson reported.

The jury will meet with Superior Judge Wayne R. Millington at 4 p.m. today to formally return the indictment and the accusation.

Sorenson said that criminal proceedings against Dyer in Northern District Municipal Court will be terminated and new proceedings started in Superior Court on the indictment charges. Dyer will be rearrested on the new charges.

Dyer was suspended as police chief following his arrest November 15 on charges of pocketing money paid by citizens for copies of accident reports.

Sorenson said that the accusation, if upheld in Superior Court, would not only result in removal of Dyer from public office, but would prohibit him from ever holding such office again.

The alleged areas of misconduct charged in the accusation are that Dyer misappropriated funds from the proceeds of sales of copies of accident reports, that he collected money from the sale of shoulder patches to officers on the force, but didn't turn the funds over to the city, that he failed to take action after he became aware of Sgt. Eugene Fogleman's alleged theft of a vaccuum cleaner hose from a car wash, that he failed to keep accounts of all money received and handled by the police department and that he failed to file a monthly statement of receipts with the city clerk.

Sorenson said that Dyer would collect $1.36 each from officers for the shoulder patches. He allegedly took in $186 from such sales and refused to turn over the funds to the city, which paid for the patches, the district attorney said.

Municipal court proceedings still are pending against Fogleman, who was charged with petty theft and also has been suspended from the police force.

Sorenson said that a total of 17 witnesses appeared before the grand jury in two nights of testimony.

S.S.F. Holdup Suspect Held

An armed robbery suspect and his alleged accomplice were arrested within minutes after holding up the Ben Franklin variety store in South San Francisco last week.

Police said James Gurley, 44, of no known address, walked through a crowd of Christmas shoppers at the Grand Avenue store shortly after 7 p.m., to a rear office where three employees were counting the day's receipts.

Brandishing a .38-caliber revolver, Gurley ordered manager Curtis Peterson and two unidentified clerks to "stay cool" while he grabbed more than $3,000 from the open office safe.

Within minutes after the suspect fled through a rear door, an all-points bulletin was flashed throughout the area.

Motorcycle officer Robert Tann spotted the suspect, Emery Lee Downs, of Oakland, crouched in the rear of a car parked in a lot about a block from the Ben Frankin store.

The officer ordered Gurley and Downs to throw away their weapons (only Gurley was armed) and to get out of the vehicle.

After securing both suspects with handcuffs, officer Tann searched the car and recovered the stolen money — less than ten minutes after the robbery was reported.

Two Escape Injury In ECR Crash

A Daly City man and Pacifica woman escaped injury last Friday when their cars collided on El Camino Real in Millbrae, during heavy morning traffic.

Police said Fred T. Timbreza, 61, 501 Hillside Boulevard, Daly City, was northbound on El Camino Real when his car slammed into another, just north of Millbrae Avenue.

Officers said the car Timbreza collided with was being driven northward by Mrs. Anna Morello Jaquez, 38, 149 Hilton Way, Pacifica.

Mrs. Jaquez said she had to stop suddenly because the car in front of her stopped without warning, and that Timbreza smashed into her car from behind.

Timbreza told officers he had not had time to stop because Mrs. Jaquez halted too quickly.

Pranksters Risk Lives At S.F. Airport

Young pranksters are risking their own lives and the lives of hundreds of others while playfully interfering with the safety of planes landing at San Francisco International Airport.

Airport Operations Chief George Nessle comments that the antics are rare, but nevertheless expensive and worrisome.

Mostly, the pranksters are stealing the marker lights along the top of the blast fence separating Bayshore Freeway from the southwesterly end of Runway 1-R, which is used when wind conditions are as they have been these past two days.

Witnesses, however, say the youngsters are also "playing chicken" by standing up on the blast fence as the airliners come in over Millbrae.

Such an act, it was said, could result in death or injury to the "standee" and could ruin or disrupt an otherwise normal landing approach and possibly endanger the lives of hundreds of air passengers.

Staff of Ten Will Replace HRC Centers

A proposal to reduce the budgets of several county "info centers" in order to finance a new "outreach and community organization" program was approved last week by the County Human Resources Commission.

In taking the action the commission denied a request for an information and a referral center to serve the Spanish-speaking community in South San Francisco.

Preliminary budgets for the operation of info centers in East Palo Alto-East Menlo Park, Redwood City, San Mateo and Daly City, and for the commission's central staff, won the tentative approval of the commission. Each of the budgets is to be reduced about 20 per cent from the current year in order to raise $42,649 for the outreach program.

The Human Resources Commission co-ordinates all federally-financed programs in the county. Info centers have been established in four of the county's seven "target areas" to assist the poor.

The outreach program was proposed by George Riley, HRC executive director, as an even more effective means of involving the poor in the solving of their own problems. Eight or 10 community workers would be hired and trained to do intensive field work in the target areas.

The proposal for an information center in South San Francisco was presented by Hugo Urioste, chairman of the Community Action Council there. He suggested a $20,000 budget for the center, which would serve one of the three target areas that do not have info centers.

Riley, however, said he was certain that the federal Office of Economic Opportunity would not provide the additional money. Taking funds from other centers to finance a South San Francisco center would jeopardize the effectiveness of the other centers, Riley added.

Commissioner Robert Obrey suggested that the commission ask the assistance of all the community action councils in deciding which programs should be funded.

"I'm tired of sitting up here playing God," Obrey declared. "This is a problem for the entire county."

SAC representatives in the audience told the commission, however, that there was general approval of Riley's budget plan and the commission went ahead and gave it a preliminary OK.

Driver Is Crushed As Car Overturns

Robert John Welter, 21, of 3621 Sunset Drive, San Bruno was killed last Thursday in a freak accident on Half Moon Bay Road in which two other occupants of his car were injured.

Highway Patrolman Edward Laine said Walter, who was a mechanic in the post office garage in San Mateo, was driving eastbound at 5:10 a.m. a mile and a half east of Half Moon Bay when he apparently tried to take a curve too fast. His sedan started across the center line and when he corrected it flipped over onto its top.

Welter's head and shoulders were thrown out of the car as it overturned, the officer reported, and he was crushed beneath the auto when it hit the ground.

The passengers in the car were Brian Forrest, 18, of 11 Costa Rica Avenue, and Gary Dimare, 19, of 1111 Balboa Avenue, both Burlingame. Laine said Dimare had a slight abrasion on his left knee. Otherwise, the passengers were unhurt.

The coroner's office said Welter was dead on arrival at Sequoia Hospital.

He lived with an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Dillon, at the San Bruno address.

$7,500 Fire Fanned By Gusty Winds

A garage fire fanned by gusty winds last Tuesday caused some $7,500 damage to a South San Francisco home.

The blaze, in the home of Fiory Seghieri, at 224 Arroyo Drive, apparently started when some newspapers stacked near a water heater in the garage caught fire.

Mrs. Seghieri smelled smoke shortly after 11 a.m. and opened the door between the garage and kitchen.

The resulting draft created by the open doorway assisted the flames in spreading throughout the garage and kitchen, a fire department spokesman said.

There were no injuries in the fire, which was extinguished quickly.

Neighbor Spots Fire

A fire of undetermined origin caused more than $7,000 damage to the home of Lonnie Shaddux at 652 Telford Avenue, South San Francisco, last Wednesday.

The blaze was reported by a neighbor who saw flames and smoke pouring from the two story home at 7:42 p.m.

Nine firemen and three pieces of equipment brrought the fire under control within minutes, a department spokesman said.

There were no reported injuries in the fire.

The Shaddux family was away from home at the time.

D.C. Driver Arrested

A Daly City man was arrested for drunk driving after the car he was driving smashed into a parked vehicle in South San Francisco last Wednesday injuring a woman.

Police said Donald L. Hooker, 33, of 137 Northridge Drive, Daly City, was booked on the drunk driving charge after his car ran into a parked car in which Kenneth and Dolores Marrs were seated near the corner of Grand Avenue and Mission Road shortly before 8 p.m.

S.S.F. Plant Is Opened For Holiday Season

The new Baruh Liquors, Inc., 115,000 square foot distribution center and bottling plant was officially opened last week at Cabot, Cabot & Forbes Industrial Park, South San Francisco.

The facility, which was designed, engineered and built by Associated Construction and Engineering Company, was completed just in time for the busy holiday season.

To emphasize the company's readiness for the traditional season of good hceer, President Harold F. Baruh manned a fork-lift loaded with gift-wrapped bottles.

He was assisted in this symbolic delivery by Morton G. Baruh, executive vice president of Baruh Liquors; William H. Acheson, Executive Vice President, Associated Construction and Engineering Company; Baruh vice presidents, Mike Mahoney and George Hochman; Bradley W. Stark of Cabot, Cabot & Forbes, and Rod Page of Associated Construction.

The new distribution center has 15,000 square feet of offices and extensive lobby display area, and 100,000 square feet for storage and bottling facilities, which are shared by Baruh Liquors and E. Martinoni Co., another Baruh corporation.

Martinoni produces and bottles several items distributed by Baruh and also by other distributors throughout the United States.
